$40,000 Fire at Menasha Razes Store Building

Two Firemen Injured Fighting Blaze In Bitter Cold

1 BADLY HURT

Four Women Escape From Apartment in Night Clothes, Coats

Menasha — A $40,000 fire in bitter 21-below zero weather this morning destroyed the two-story Tuchscherer building, 201 Main street, the oldest brick building in Menasha. The 70-year-old building is a total loss and stock of four firms occupying the building was destroyed.

Two firemen were injured and others suffered frost-bitten faces. William Akstulewicz, 765 Racine street, was most seriously hurt when struck by a 400-pound chunk of ice that dropped from the roof when he attempted to get in the rear door of the building.

Dr. L. S. Shemanski, city physician, reported that Akstulewicz suffered contusions and abrasions of the head and neck, severe back strain and a fracture of the left knee. His condition was reported fair at Theda Clark hospital where he is a patient. The steel helmet worn by Akstulewicz was crushed by the falling ice.

Struck by Hose
Ernest Kroll, 748 Sixth street, Menasha call fireman, received a injured leg when a hose got out of control and writhed on the ground, the nozzle striking Kroll's left leg.

The estimated loss of $40,000 was partly covered by insurance. The fire apparently started in the rear of the building, possibly between the walls or floor. H. J. Tuchscherer reported that the store was checked as usual last night and no smoke was in the basement when the firemen arrived. The upstairs was filled with smoke, making it impossible for the firemen to locate the source of the flames immediately. The building fronts on Main and Mill streets.

Four women occupying the only apartment in the building smelled smoke and turned in the alarm at 4:45 this morning. The women escaped from the building clad only in their night clothes and coats. All of their property was lost and they carried no insurance.

Alarm at 4:45
The women were Mrs. Sadie Villard, Miss Mildred Villard, Miss Charlotte Pitt, and Miss Blanche Meyer, 35 Mill street. Miss Villard turned in the alarm from Hotel Menasha about 4:45 this morning.

The Neenah fire department was called to assist in fighting the flames. They arrived about 5:30 and worked until 10:30 this morning after which the Menasha firemen continued to pour streams of water into the building.

The severe cold turned the water into ice on the building and hampered the operation of the pumper trucks. The gas lines of both the Neenah and Menasha trucks were frozen several times and cut the efficiency of the work. The Neenah truck was forced to go to the Menasha fire station twice to thaw out and the Menasha firemen used hot

Council Sets Pay Of New Aldermen At $400 Per Year

Wage Will be Effective If Referendum Is Ruled Invalid

The city council last night set the salaries of aldermen to be elected next April at $400 per year, made slight changes in the wages of inspectors and voted to drop from the salary ordinance several appointive posts as well as all other classifications of city employees. A court dispute over whether aldermen's current salaries are $500 or $250 has not been settled.

The salary ordinance, drafted after a confused report out of an informal meeting Tuesday and a committee of the whole session last night, was referred to the ordinance committee, ordered published and will be considered for passage at the Feb. 7 meeting of the council.

Salaries of the mayor, city clerk, city attorney, city treasurer, city assessor, city engineer, relief director, and sealer of weights and measures were left the same and need not be officially published.

The wages of three inspectors, the building inspector, the plumbing inspector and the deputy health officer were given a boost of $25 per year to make his salary $1,600 per year, the same as the other two inspectors.

Car Expenses
All three men were voted $10 per month for automobile expenses, representing a raise of $2 per month for the deputy health officer, and a drop of $80 per year for the building inspector, who now is receiving $200 per year for the use of his car.

The plumbing inspector now is not paid car expenses. The council also voted to raise the city assessor from $8 to $10 per month for six months of the year for automobile expenses. Dropped from the salary ordinance were the city home keeper

AS FIREMEN BATTLED $40,000 MENASHA BLAZE

Menasha—Firemen from Neenah and Menasha are shown above battling a fire which destroyed the Tuchscherer building, Main street, in bitter, 21 below zero weather this morning. Estimated damage was set at $40,000, and the building, the oldest brick structure in Menasha, and the stock of three firms was a total loss. Two firemen, William Akstulewicz and Ernest Kroll, Menasha, were injured. Jack Dombroski, assistant fire chief for Menasha, is shown above in the foreground of the pictures. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Finns Report Reds Retreat 28 Miles In Salla Region

Communique Also Announces 11 Russian Planes Shot Down

With the Finnish Forces in Lapland —(P)—Harassed by hunger, frostbite, and constant Finnish patrol attacks, the Soviet forces farthest within Finland along the Salla highway have at last acknowledged defeat and started retreating.

Finnish troops are close on their heels and heavy fighting is now in progress at Markkari.

The red army, after hammering vainly at Finnish defenses for a month and a half, suddenly abandoned its trenches to retreat eastward toward the Soviet border.

Helsinki —(P)—The Finns announced tonight that their forces had pushed the Russians back 28 miles in the Salla region above the Arctic circle.

The army communique also announced that the Finns had shot down 11 Russian bombing planes in fighting yesterday. Previously it had been reported unofficially that 11 of 18 raiding red planes had been shot down in a raid on Lapland in southern Finland.

"In Lapland," the communique said, "our troops have advanced 45 kilometers (28 miles) in the Salla sector during the past few days."

Copenhagen —(P)—Forty thousand Soviet Russian legionnaires fell back from Finland's Arctic Salla sector today in a general retreat before the twin scourges of the worst winter in 25 years and the dogged pursuit of Finnish troops, said dispatches reaching here.

The Finnish army communique reported merely that the Finns were fighting successfully in the direction of Salla, but other Finnish sources said the situation heightened hopes of a new victory over the Russian invaders.

The correspondent of the Copenhagen newspaper Berlingske Tidende on the northern front said 40,000 Russians were involved in a retreat and that they apparently had given up hope of holding that front for the winter.

Elderly Man Fatally Burned in Accident

Madison —(P)—William Dunphy, 74, died at a hospital here last night of burns received 10 hours earlier when a torch ignited his clothing while he was thawing out a water pipe on his farm three miles east of Sun Prairie.

A check of an Oshkosh city directory published in 1930 today revealed that an Albert Richards lived at Oshkosh at that time. The name does not appear in later directories but in 1930 he was listed as a porter at the Wisconsin Match corporation.

'Wearin' of the Green' Will Not be Postponed

Lawrence, Mass. —(P)—The Irish, despite a delay until April 3 in the religious observance of St. Patrick's day, will celebrate the birth of their patron saint on March 17 as usual.

The possibility that the social observance of the occasion might be delayed arose with the church's announcement that the religious feast would be postponed until April because it conflicted with the observance of Palm Sunday.

However, Joseph E. Kerrigan, national president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, announced after consulting with other officials that all the social functions and parades attending the "wearin' of the green" observance would be held on March 17 throughout the country.

Garner and Directors of U. S. Manufacturers Group Oppose More Financial Aid to Finland

Washington —(P)—Vice President Garner and the board of directors of the National Association of Manufacturers were listed today among those opposing further financial aid to embattled Finland.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) told reporters he could see no objection to lending the Finns more money. Former President Herbert Hoover also gave support to President Roosevelt's idea of a non-military loan.

Vice President Garner was reported authoritatively to have opposed an additional Finnish loan at a White House legislative conference Monday, the day before President Roosevelt sent word to Congress that he thought an extension of credit at this time would not constitute nor threaten involvement of this country in Europe's wars.

Garner's opinion was represented also as believing that Congress never would approve additional Finnish aid. He was said to have been gratified at yesterday's decision by the senate banking committee to defer action on the proposal and to hear the views of Secretary Hull next Wednesday.

The board of directors of the National Association of Manufacturers declared in a statement made public in New York, that extension of government "loans, credits or other official aid" to "victims of arbitrary force" was "likely to excite reprisals and thus lead to ultimate involvement in war."

This statement said that industry and the American people sympathized deeply with the victims of arbitrary force everywhere, and urged that relief and aid to such victims be extended generously but privately in each instance—"such as in the case of Finland today."

26 U. W. Students Leaving League

Madison —(P)—Twenty-six University of Wisconsin students announced today their withdrawal from the University League for Liberal Action in protest against continued affiliation with the American Student Union, which held its national convention here recently.

Among the group was Donald M. Eklund, Baraboo, U.L.L.A. vice chairman, who said the league had reduced its effectiveness as a campus organization by refusing last week, 103 to 74, to renounce membership in the A.S.U.

The group as a whole indicated it was not in sympathy with what it termed the pro-communist leadership that assumed control of the A.S.U. following rejection by convention delegates of a resolution which branded Russia the aggressor in its war with Finland.

They said they expected to organize a new "liberal" campus organization to deal with student problems.

U.L.L.A. officials who withdrew with Eklund were Sheila A. Smith, Oakfield, secretary; John H. Boshard, Bangor, treasurer; and Alan Beaumont, Waunakee, chairman of the U.L.L.A. social theater.

Other campus leaders in the group were Edwin Newman, New York, editorial chairman of the Daily Cardinal, student newspaper, and Elizabeth Wells of Combined Locks and Leon Epstein of Beaver Dam, members of the student board.

No Early Relief in Sight as Mercury Dips to 4-Year Low

Thermometer Under Zero Mark in City Since Tuesday

19 BELOW TODAY

Residents Worry About Cars, Stoke Furnaces, Stay Indoors

Old Man Winter blew his frostiest breath of the year on Appleton this morning, forcing the mercury down to 19 below zero at 8 o'clock, and was drawing himself up to full height for more cold blasts tonight.

Not since Tuesday has the thermometer been above the zero mark, the Wisconsin Michigan Power company reported, yesterday's maximum being two below at 9 o'clock in the morning.

The thermometer atop the Post-Crescent registered 12 below zero at 12:30 this afternoon. The clear skies and bright sun that have hovered over the chilly countryside during the sub-zero spell lingered today, but tomorrow will be cloudy.

Residents crossed their fingers as they stepped on the starters of their cars this morning, after one of the coldest nights in the last several years. Those who got a proper response felt fortunate; those who heard only a low groan and then dead silence shrugged their shoulders and trudged off to work, hailed a friend driving by, or grabbed a bus or cab.

The cold wave, which swept over the Appleton area after Sunday's blizzard, was far more severe than anything experienced last winter.

The low reading at the government locks in Menasha this morning was 21 below.

Last Year Was Easy
Weather records show that the coldest mark in January of last year was five below and in February, 10 below. On successive mornings, the mercury in Appleton has slipped to 13, nine, and 19 below zero.

It was evident late yesterday afternoon that only a freak change in weather conditions would keep the mercury from falling to its lowest level of the winter. Furnaces were fed fiercely last night and few people ventured out of their homes during the evening, preferring radios, books, and bridge to anything that would bring an encounter with the bitter temperatures.

Patterns of frost on windshields and windows combined with the heavy going on many streets in the city hampered drivers. Cold trucks roared out to fill needy bins. Men forgot their dignity and tossed aside hats and gloves for lumberman's caps and mittens.

The below-zero reading didn't stop street department crews who worked late last night and were out again early this morning removing snow from the business district.

The Appleton office of the Wisconsin Telephone company reported "a few scattered breaks" in telephone lines because of the extreme cold this morning.

Admits Calling Himself 'Judge and Prosecutor'

Washington —(P)—George O. Pratt, chief examiner for the labor board, acknowledged to house investigators today that he once had described himself as "judge, juror and prosecutor."

The development came in questioning by Edmund Toland, counsel for the house committee inquiring into the handling of labor disputes under the Wagner act.

Toland, after discussing labor board procedure in the case of the Eagle Picher Mining and Smelting company of Joplin, Mo., asked about the "judge-juror-prosecutor" remark.

"I think in one letter to Charles Hope I did make that statement," Pratt replied.

Hope is now regional director at Seattle but it was not brought out what his capacity was during the period then under discussion, 1935-36.

Five Killed in Explosions In North London War Plant; 'No Enemy Action Involved'

London —(P)—Five men were killed and a number injured in a series of rapid-fire explosions in a North London war plant today which damaged houses as far as two miles away.

The casualties were announced by the ministry of supply several hours after the blasts.

Two accidents in other parts of England took three lives and injured several soldiers.

An accident of undisclosed nature killed three members of the Queen's Royal regiment in Dorsetshire and injured a fourth seriously.

Several soldiers were injured by a boiler explosion in a garrison in southeast England.

Police said the blasts were accidental and involved "no enemy action."

There were two or three explosions in quick succession.

NEAR DEATH

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho was reported near death today at Washington. He was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday morning in his apartment, and has been in a state of coma since that time.

Senator Borah Is Critically Ill at National Capital

'Lion of Idaho' in Coma Since Fall in Apartment Tuesday Morning

Washington —(P)—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage, was reported today to be near death.

The 74-year-old dean of the senate has been in a seldom-broken state of coma since Tuesday morning when he was found unconscious in his bathroom.

Mrs. Borah said that the senator's physician would give her no encouragement to expect that her husband might recover.

Shortly after noon President Roosevelt telephoned Mrs. Borah and expressed his sympathies.

At their apartment where Borah was under the care of Dr. Worth Daniels, Mrs. Borah said that contrary to first assumptions, it was now considered possible that the senator first was stricken with the hemorrhage and that this attack had caused the fall Tuesday. First reports were that he had slipped on a rug, struck his head, and that the hemorrhage resulted.

"Very Critical"
Miss Cora Rubin, Borah's secretary for 30 years, said after a visit to his bedside that his condition was "very, very critical" and that he was in a coma most of the time. Turn to page 10 col. 8

Kelly Says Illinois Delegate Will Back Roosevelt for Race

Washington —(P)—Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago said after a White House visit today the Illinois delegation to the Democratic national convention would "all be for Roosevelt whether he wants it or not."

Kelly's statement followed the re-announcing by Ohio's organization Democrats that the Buckeye State's 52 delegates would favor President Roosevelt or the man of his choice for the presidential nomination, though nominally pledged to Senator Vic Donahey.

Donahey, ill at his home here, said today he had not yet decided whether to file in the Ohio primary as a "favorite son" candidate. The Ohio presidential preference primary will be held next May and under the state law convention delegates must obtain the written consent of the man they will support for the presidential nomination.

Forecaster Sees Even Colder Weather Tonight

WIDE AREA HIT

Middle West and New England States Suffer Frigid Waves

Milwaukee —(P)—A marrow-chilling wave of cold from the Canadian northwest swept into Wisconsin Thursday, dropping the temperature far below zero and submitting the state to its coldest day in four years.

Temperatures ranged from 27 below at Park Falls to 15 below in Milwaukee.

Upper Michigan fared a little better, although Iron Mountain reported a minimum of 19 below zero. The low point at Marquette was -8, while at Sault Ste. Marie it was zero.

Frank Coleman, government meteorologist here, warned that even colder weather could be expected Thursday night—25 to 30 below in northwestern Wisconsin and about 18 in the Milwaukee area. Considerable cloudiness was forecast for Thursday night and Friday, with snow flurries possible in the north. Coleman said there is little likelihood of relief by Friday.

Minimum Temperatures
Minimum temperatures reported Thursday morning: Park Falls -27; Marshfield -24; Monroe and Antigo -12; Eau Claire -22; Janesville, Stevens Point and Wausau -21; Superior and Madison -20; LaCrosse, Shawano and Iron Mountain, Mich., -19; Sheboygan -17; Kenosha -16 and Milwaukee -15.

There were numerous reports of citizens suffering frostbite. A Milwaukee woman arrived at a bridge party after an eight-block walk Wednesday night and discovered one of her ears was frozen.

A fractious bull, on the way to slaughter, caused no end of trouble by jumping off a farmer's truck and into the Menomonee river in Milwaukee. The police lassoed the animal and hauled it to shore with a derrick.

A fireboat was delayed in reaching the scene because the grease on the mechanism of two draw-bridges was frozen so hard that the bridge leaves could not be elevated. The seagoing firemen finally removed the boat's mast and piloted their craft underneath the spans.

And on the year's coldest day, Mrs. George Reynolds called one of the Milwaukee newspapers to report the first robin of 1940.

WPA Projects Closed
All outdoor WPA projects in the southeastern Wisconsin district were closed today, and Director Sanford Starks said they would not be resumed until the weather becomes favorable. About 12,000 workers in six counties were affected.

By mid-morning, 45 Milwaukeees were treated at two Milwaukee emergency hospitals for frostbite.

Trains were running behind schedule. The greatest delays involved freight trains.

The frigid blast had its effect on litigation—only three suits were filed in circuit court in Milwaukee up to noon. The average for a day is twenty. One of the three charged that a landlord had violated a health ordinance that tenants' quarters must be kept at a 70-degree temperature whenever the outside temperature is below 50.

Large Area Affected
Intensely cold weather gripped the United States from the northern Rocky mountains to the frozen corn fields of Indiana.

It was 20 degrees below zero last night in most of Minnesota, the Dakotas, and in icy stretches of Nebraska, Iowa and Montana. Lemmon, S. D., reported a temperature of 30 below.

The severest cold wave of the season descended upon New England, driving temperatures down to 21 degrees below zero at ground level stations in the northern districts. Atop Mt. Washington, where it was 28 below, a 99 mile an hour hurricane howled.

Forecasts generally promised no relief until the weekend.

Even Texas felt the Arctic air, blown into the United States yesterday by an unusually large high pressure area in Canada.

A reading of 4 above was reported from Amarillo, while residents of Dallas and Fort Worth hurried about in a crisp 15 above.

The cracking cold that extended across South Dakota was the worst in four years. A stiff wind made it more penetrating, and in some counties schools were closed.

Senate Votes to Extend Farm Moratorium Act

Washington —(P)—The senate approved unanimously today a four-year extension of the federal farm moratorium act, scheduled to expire next March.

Senator Frazier (R-N.D.), author of the measure, which now goes to the house, said extension would enable thousands of farmers to avail themselves of federal bankruptcy in an effort to scale down and readjust their debts.

Murphy, Jackson Are Sworn in for New U. S. Offices

Roosevelt Present as They Take Oaths: Murphy Answers 'Insinuations'

Washington—(AP)—In the presence of President Roosevelt, officials high in the government and friends, Frank Murphy, new associate justice of the supreme court, took the oath of office today. At the same time Robert H. Jackson was sworn in as attorney general.

The ceremony took place in the oval room where the president has his study on the second floor of the White House. Mr. Roosevelt told each of them of the satisfaction it gave him to have two very old friends move in to higher offices in the government service.

Murphy moved up to the supreme court from the position of attorney general and Jackson succeeded Murphy, one-time governor of Michigan.

The oaths were administered by Stanley Reed, associate justice of the supreme court, who performed a similar function when Murphy became attorney general.

Biddle Delays Oath

Judge Francis Biddle, who is leaving the third circuit court of appeals to take over Jackson's old duties as solicitor general, watched the ceremony. He was to have been sworn at the same time but decided to wait until next week because his family could not attend.

Murphy earlier today denied "insinuations" that he had "suppressed possible proceedings against Mayor Kelly of Chicago, Mayor Hague of Jersey City and other political leaders."

Murphy's statement was given out by a justice department aid from his hotel apartment.

"Proceedings, by grand jury or otherwise," he said, "have been pressed against political leaders, without regard to their party, their power or their influence, for the violation of federal laws whenever the department has been able to obtain evidence to justify prosecution. There has been no criminal prosecution of the persons above referred to because there is on evidence in the department to warrant such prosecution."

The department has no authority to investigate or prosecute the investigation of any laws other than federal laws.

His reference to Mayor Frank Hague recalled a statement by Homer Cummings, Murphy's predecessor as attorney general, in September, 1938, that an investigation was "still in progress" to determine whether civil liberties had been suppressed in Jersey City.

Murphy said at the outset of his statement that he felt it his duty "to clear up certain misstatements and insinuations and implications based upon such misstatements which have today and lately been circulated in a portion of the press."

Murphy said that "the department has been vigorous in ferreting out violators of federal law without regard to political implications. There is not the slightest bias to suspect any change in the department's policy of firm and equal enforcement of the laws."

THOMAS' COMMENT

New York—(AP)—Norman Thomas, Socialist party leader, said today he had "no quarrel" with Attorney General Frank Murphy and had raised "no insinuations" that Murphy had suppressed possible proceedings against Mayors Kelly of Chicago, Hague of Jersey City and other political leaders.

Since the matter has been raised, Thomas said, "I could simply point out that the administration acted against flagrant violations of civil liberty or other offenses unless or until the political situation—as in the state of Missouri—seems to make such action politically practical."

Thomas' comment followed upon a statement issued by Murphy in Washington, a few hours before leaving the attorney generalship to be sworn in as a supreme court justice, in which Murphy said he "resented" insinuations regarding his politics.

Chicago—(AP)—The investiture of the most Rev. Samuel A. Stritch of Milwaukee as Chicago's new archbishop has been set for March 7, the most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, senior auxiliary bishop of Chicago, announced last night.

The new archbishop, who was named by Pope Pius XII to replace the late George Cardinal Mundelein, will be enthroned in Holy Name cathedral. A solemn pontifical mass will be celebrated on the morning of the installation.

Rail Executives Predicting Dawn Of Brighter Era

Think Carriers May Have Most Prosperous Period of Decade

Milwaukee—(AP)—Officials of some of the nation's largest railroads believe the transportation systems are on the threshold of the most prosperous days of a decade.

The rail executives, here for the annual meeting of the Milwaukee Traffic club, reported a small, but well-defined, upturn in business. They definitely see the effects of the depression years fading and the dawn of a brighter era.

C. E. Denney, St. Paul, president of the Northern Pacific, said the railroads are prepared to meet any development expanding business may bring. Through economies and other measures, he added, the railroads have put their houses in order so that improved financial results already are in evidence.

M. J. Alger, New York, a vice president of the New York Central, said business currently was running 15 or 16 per cent ahead of January of 1939 and was approaching 1937 levels. Judge Charles M. Thomson, Chicago, trustee of the North Western road and R. L. Williams, chief executive officer, were optimistic over the outlook for the system they head and over the results of the last year.

Increase in Revenue

Judge Thomson said an increase of approximately $6,000,000 probably would be shown in net operating revenues for 1939 over the previous year. Operating economies and increased business were factors in making the increase possible, he said.

J. B. Beven, Chicago, president of the Illinois Central, said the railroads are in good condition to handle sharply increased volume of traffic through improvement programs now under way. He reported an increase of approximately 20 per cent in carloadings.

An increase of 10 per cent enjoyed by the manufacturers of railroad equipment during 1939 over the previous year, according to Jerry B. Brandon, Chicago, vice president of the American Arch company, manufacturers of railroad equipment.

Approximately 900 traffic men, railroad executives and industrialists attended the Traffic club's annual dinner last night. They heard Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, of the National Association of Manufacturers predict that "American democracy would move forward in an unprecedented advance as soon as business takes off the brakes, drops what is left of its defeatist attitude, and tells its story clearly and confidently to the people."

Girl Quizzed on Story of Attack

Defense Attorney Points Out Discrepancies In Statements

Los Angeles—(AP)—A 16-year-old girl insisted under searching cross-examination yesterday that she had been criminally attacked by James (Bob) Davis, 25, professional football player of Columbus, O., and three other men in a Hollywood apartment the night of Nov. 20.

Defense attorney Ernest Orfila pointed out to her that at the preliminary hearing she had declared she was attacked 11 times by seven men. The girl said she could not recall that statement, but she was positive she was outraged by four men.

"I was selling tickets on a turkey raffle near my home when Davis and Wilbur Braden pushed me into a car," she testified. "They took me to an apartment and attacked me." Davis, and Wilbur Braden, 25, and Morton Braden, 27, brothers, are charged with criminal assault. The girl said she was not certain of a fourth suspect's identity.

Superior Judge A. A. Scott, trying the case without a jury, excused the girl when she said she felt too ill for further questioning. She will testify again today. Her sister testified the girl returned home after the alleged attack disheveled and hysterical.

Chamberlain Provides His Political Opponents With New Supply of Ammunition

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

New York—(AP)—British Premier Chamberlain's sensational jettisoning of War Minister Hore-Belisha, and the ensuing public clamor of protest, inevitably have revived speculation as to the probable length of life of the septuagenarian's chieftainship.

There are plenty of political sharpshooters, especially among the generation, who long have been gunning for the aging but agile Mr. Chamberlain, and his present venture into no-man's land has given them fresh opportunity. However, this isn't the first time, and it probably won't be the last, that the ebullient statesman has paraded in the open with a sang-froid which has disconcerted his enemies.

It was worth a laugh, the way the premier told the house of commons in effect on Tuesday that it was none of that august body's business how he dealt with Mr. Hore-Belisha (pronounced Bellesha) or any other member of the cabinet.

Finns, Russians Both Claim Aerial Combat Victories

Soviet Land Forces Reported Suffering From Record Cold

BY WADE WERNER

Helsinki—(AP)—It was reported unofficially today that Finnish planes shot down 11 of 18 Soviet Russian bombers which raided Lapland in southern Finland yesterday.

(The Russian communiqué of last night said 11 Finnish planes had been shot down in aerial combat, but did not disclose the location.)

Officially, the Finns reported that the Russians braved the bitterest cold in 25 years to drop 150 bombs yesterday in southern Finland, striking at Hanko, Turku, Viipuri, Rauma, Tammsaari and Lappeenranta.

The damage was said to be relatively slight, with only two persons killed, two wounded and two missing.

Finland's great white ally—winter—was reported to have accounted for large numbers of Soviet dead among the land forces.

Freeze at Posts

Finnish patrols said they had seen hundreds of red soldiers frozen to death at their posts on the Karelian isthmus front alone.

The invaders were said to be inadequately clad for the present record cold which ranged as low as 54 degrees below zero fahrenheit in parts of Finland.

A Finnish officer told this correspondent recently at Viipuri, "It is the easiest death they could die—easier than being machine-gunned and more pleasant than being bombed. They simply fall asleep."

The Finns have welcomed the coldest weather in 25 years. They have reason to believe that their men at the front are better prepared for it than their foe.

Finland's soldiers and civilians must do endure hardships unprecedented in modern war but one thing appears certain—they won't weaken for lack of food.

This correspondent has eaten his way across Finland, taking food as it comes and nowhere did he find anything but good food and plenty of it.

WHY THIS STOMACHIC TONIC MEDICINE IS OFTEN NEEDED

Two mighty important organs of the human body are the stomach and bowels. When one needs help, the other often needs help, too. There is only the healthful throwing-off of waste products defecated, but often you don't get full benefit from the food you eat.

That's why you may often suffer the nervousness that gives sleepless nights... the misery of indigestion... the discomfort of upset stomach... the pain of headache... the embarrassment of belching and bad breath. That's why you may get up in the morning feeling tired, doped, absolutely incapable of doing your best work or enjoying the fun of life and the thrill of really living. That's why so many sufferers of delayed elimination are so cross and irritable, even their best friends avoid them. That's why skin often looks sallow and complexion is anything but normal.

For real results, you've got to stimulate BOTH the bowels and the stomach to carry on their normal functions, and you can do it with ONE time-proven formula, Dr. Peter Fabrey's ALPEN KRAUTER. Compounded from 18 smooth-working medicinal ingredients, Dr. Peter Fabrey's ALPEN KRAUTER is a real natural stomachic tonic medicine. It speeds digestion, increases the appetite, it urges gentle removal of clinging, staled, old wastes, and even their best friends avoid them. That's why skin often looks sallow and complexion is anything but normal.

New Dealers are Using Tactics of Old Reactionaries

Delegations Selected With Formal Approval of Government Officials

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — When Charles O. West, former undersecretary of the Interior, emerges from the White House and says "disappointed" or "disturbed" by the fact that the state chairman of Ohio had arranged to pledge Ohio's delegation to the national convention to support a third term, it could easily be assumed that Mr. Roosevelt's acquiescence has a hearing on his own renomination.

Actually, however, the plan of the New Dealers for several months has been to try to get as many state delegations instructed to follow the wishes of the administration, whatever they may prove to be. In other words, if the president wants to name his successor as the party standard bearer, he will want to be able to influence the convention to that end through delegations now being chosen which will be favorable to the New Deal cause.

Mr. West would not find any New Dealer here disappointed or disturbed if the Democrats of the state of Ohio are going to send a "third term" delegation to the national convention. The use of Senator Donahy's name as a means of camouflaging a real third term drive or the nomination of some one who would be desired by the administration is not by any means unorthodox in politics, but under the direct primary system it has been assumed that the people of a given party would express their preference by votes and not by the dictates of a few men in control of the party.

Cliques Once More
Political oligarchies originally brought the downfall of the state convention system making nominations of candidates, but gradually the swing has been back to the cliques once more. No longer are the "cliques" regarded as binding, though in a few states where contests occur for prominent candidates instead of stalking horses there has been in recent years a tendency to stick to the primary choice for a number of ballots or as long as there seemed a reasonable chance of his winning the nomination.

Whether Mr. Roosevelt will be drafted after he publicly declines to seek renomination, or whether he wishes to name the candidate, the tactics of the New Dealers will be the same—to retain control of a majority of the delegates. There will be drives, for instance, for "third term" delegations in an impersonal as well as a personal sense. Attorney General Robert H. Jackson was among the first in public speeches to declare that 1940 should see a "third term" for the New Deal, the inference being that, irrespective of whether Mr. Roosevelt could be persuaded to run, the New Deal policies should be maintained.

This means that in the state of Ohio, the voters will have a clear-cut issue. The kind of delegation which is now promised under the Donahy label means that the party voters in the primary election this spring will be asked to approve the New Deal, whereas, the voters against the Donahy ticket will be recorded as against the New Deal. From the standpoint of the autumn election, this means the opening of a division in the party from which the Republicans may hope to benefit. It is not unlikely that an opposition ticket on the primary slate in Ohio will stress the importance of a revision, if not a vital change, in New Deal policies.

Control Selection
The fact that Ohio by its law prevents anybody's name from being used on the ballot without his consent has been troubling the New Dealers who knew Mr. Roosevelt would never sanction such a step. But by using a stalking horse, the same result can be achieved, for, at the proper moment in the convention a delegation instructed for Senator Donahy for president can switch to any candidate desired by the administration. A more palpable and openly confessed system of governmental control of party elections could hardly be cited. In Europe the government controls elections by various forms of physical coercion. In America, the charge can be made and now proved that the men in public office actually control the selection of delegates to a nominating convention. This was the issue on which the Republican party split in 1912 when the Bull Moose Progressive movement was born. The Taft-controlled convention was denounced as reac-

Appleton Streets How They Were Named

This is one of a number of brief articles telling how certain Appleton streets received their names. Much of the information in these articles comes from a survey made by Miss Anna L. Tenney, 724 E. Alton street.

Originally Johnson, named for John F. Johnson, who was one of the first settlers in Appleton, arriving here in 1848. He was the first postmaster of Appleton. His home stood about where the street now is.

Jardin street—From N. Leminah street east to Riverside cemetery. Named for the French word meaning "garden."

Kimball street—From S. Oneida street east to S. Oak street, two blocks south of E. College avenue.

Named for Eliza Pierce Kimball, wife of the Rev. Reeder Smith. She came to Appleton in 1848 and died here in 1895.

Leminah street—From E. Pacific street to E. Wisconsin avenue, 11 blocks east of N. Oneida street.

Named for an Indian word said to mean the "deer trail" or the "deer run."

U. W. Alumni Will Sponsor Meeting

Appleton, Neenah-Menasha, Oshkosh Chapters Plan Banquet

Appleton, Neenah-Menasha, and Oshkosh chapters of the Wisconsin Alumni association will join in celebrating the university Founders day at a banquet in Valley Inn, Neenah, Wednesday night, Feb. 7, it was announced today.

Dean Frank O. Holt of the University of Wisconsin extension division, will be the principal speaker at the meeting. The university Founders day program which will be broadcast from the campus that night over the NBC network will be heard at the Neenah meeting.

Mrs. Walter Brummun and Mrs. Harold Brown are in charge of the Appleton Chapter's attendance. Reservations may be made through them or through A. H. Benson, secretary of the chapter.

Robert Ozanne is in charge of arrangements for the Neenah-Menasha chapter.

Store Managers to be Entered in Competition

The Appleton Chamber of Commerce will submit the names of local chain store managers who are community leaders to the Chain Store Age which in turn will select national leaders, according to Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the Chamber. The contest is in cooperation of the National Association of Commercial Secretaries.

tionary and boss-controlled. Yet today, twenty-eight years later, a party which boasts of its progressivism and liberalism, brazenly adopts the tactics of the old reactionaries, and delegations are now selected with formal approval of the government officials themselves.

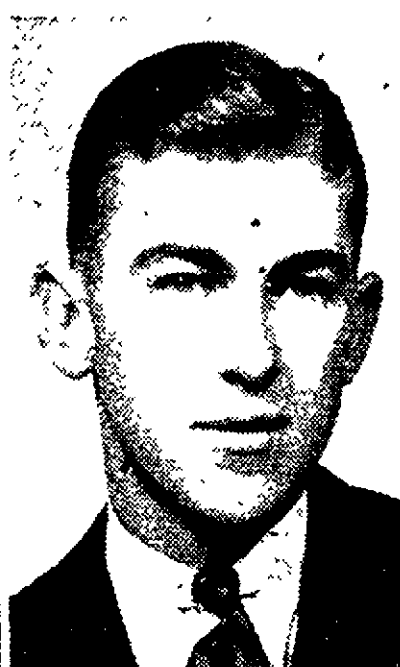

The Hatch act was passed by congress to prevent subordinates and government employees from influencing national elections by the use of governmental power and authority—but all higher officials were exempted, perhaps on the assumption they would not do what their subordinates were forbidden to do. Amendment of the Hatch law to include all government officials would seem to be the logical consequence of what has just been announced by Democratic leaders from Ohio.

VOTED MOST HANDSOME AT LAWRENCE COLLEGE

As far as Lawrence college co-eds are concerned, these six Lawrence men are good competition for Clark Gable, Tyrone Power and Robert Taylor. At least they are closer and much more accessible. By secret ballot Tuesday morning in convocation the girls voted these men the six most handsome on the campus. In the top row, left to right, are George Garman, Eau Claire; Seldon Spencer, Williams Bay; and William Hogue, Shorewood. In the bottom row, reading in the same direction, are Robert Everett, Oak Park, Ill.; William Masterson, Stevens Point; and Richard Garvey, Appleton. Three of them, Hogue, Masterson and Spencer, were winners in the first annual "most handsome men" contest last year. The contest is sponsored by the Lawrentian, student weekly newspaper. ## Route 41 Still On Favored List For Improvement

Reduced Construction Budget Forestalls Early Action, However

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Although a reduced state highway construction budget for the next two seasons makes early action exceedingly unlikely, highway officials continue to discuss eagerly the long-advocated improvement of Highway 41 from Milwaukee to Green Bay.

In his year-end report of 1939 state highway activities, Chairman William E. O'Brien of the state highway commission observes that "one of the most pressing needs of highway construction in this state is the modernization of Highway 41 leading north from Milwaukee."

"This is one of the oldest concrete roads in the state and carries a great deal of heavy traffic. The alignment and grades of this road are not built to modern standards, and the portion between Menomonee Falls and Milwaukee is an 18-foot slab—carrying a maximum amount of traffic—the peak load over the holidays approaching 19,000 cars a day.

"It further is a congested truck route between the Fox river valley and Milwaukee.

Curb Congestion

"The conditions in Neenah, Menasha, Appleton, Little Chute and Kaukauna were so congested that in 1934 Outagamie county issued bonds to build a trunk line around these cities. This has aided the traffic on 41 materially and embraces the essential features of design, as reported by Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the public roads administration, to the secretary of agriculture in 1939," he said.

Meanwhile Oshkosh and Winnebago county officials continued to discuss the Highway 41 problem, and continued to urge the state highway commission to make available an allotment of funds to provide for the temporary widening and resurfacing of the highway near the Winnebago county seat.

'Freedom of the Press' Case Reversed by Court

New Orleans—(P)—The fifth circuit court of appeals Wednesday reversed and remanded the "freedom of the press" case under which five Mobile, Ala., persons were convicted of conspiracy to intimidate Henry P. Ewald, former executive of the Mobile Press-register.

The government contended that the defendants conspired to intimidate Ewald, who was conducting a campaign against gambling, by photographing and beating him Feb. 14 at the home of a woman.

Indictments were brought under Title 18, Section 51 of the United States code, which prohibits conspiracy for intimidation of "any citizen in the free exercise of... or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the Constitution of the United States."

Loan Association Elects Directors, Adopts New Name

180 Persons Served at Annual Banquet for Stockholders

New London — The name of the New London Building and Loan association was changed to Savings and Loan association and three directors, H. B. Crispy, Fay R. Smith and Ben Hartquist were reelected for terms of three years at the annual banquet of stockholders at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall last night. About 180 were served by the V. F. W. auxiliary.

According to the financial report, the association accepted 21 new accounts during 1939 and took in $120,891 in new money. Loans for the year were the largest in history with approximately $40,000 loaned to 30 borrowers. The association has a total of 120 borrowers with an average loan of $1,058 and has no real estate on hand, the president pointed out. The association has a total of 120 borrowers with an average loan of $1,058 and has no real estate on hand, the president pointed out.

During the absence of Attorney Ormond W. Capener, secretary of the association who is ill at his home at Baraboo, the reports were read by President H. B. Crispy and roll call of shareholders was conducted by Miss Viva Walstrom, assistant secretary.

Oshkosh Man Talks
A. A. Abraham, president and manager of the Oshkosh Building, Savings and Loan association, was the principal speaker and urged shareholders to crusade against private lenders who, he said, are the most menacing competitors of the savings and loan associations. He also warned against the invasion of other lending agencies into the community. Mr. Abraham is a past president of the Wisconsin Building and Loan association, a present director, and a director of the state advisory banking board.

Attorney Francis A. Werner, one of the directors, acted as toastmaster and musical entertainment was provided by high school girls under Miss Mary K. Donohue. Patricia Egan and Alice Stanley rendered two solo voice selections and Valois Peters played a clarinet solo, each accompanied by Miss Donohue. Community singing was led by Henry W. Spearbraker, also a director of the association.

Others on the board of directors are E. J. Freuburger, Guy O. Bloudey and F. L. Zaig.

Lower Electric Rates Effective in February

New London—Reduced electricity rates for New London consumers will become effective with February meter readings rather than Jan. 1, according to a communication received by City Treasurer L. M. Wright this week from the Wisconsin Public Service commission. The date of reduction was deferred to allow time for the printing of new statements to conform with the changes. The reduced charges will appear on bills for March 1 and will cover consumption from the middle of January to the middle of February.

The reduction amounts to one-half cent per kilowatt hour under 60 kilowatt hours and one-fourth cent off all over 60 for residential lighting. Penalties for non-payment within 15 days also will be cut in half, amounting to one-quarter cent per kilowatt hour rather than one-half cent.

NEW LONDON BIRTHS

New London—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ward Southard, route 1, New London, at their home Tuesday afternoon.

NELSON EDDY IN NEW PICTURE

Nelson Eddy's magnificent baritone voice which has thrilled millions, has full expression for the first time on the screen in "Balalaika," starting at the Appleton Theatre Saturday, with the star singing a group of songs which range from Russian folk tunes to musical masterpieces familiar the world over. The brilliant new musical, offering a colorfully dramatic story of Old Russia, the Revolution and the exiled Russian nobility in Paris, also importantly introduces Ilona Massey, one of the loveliest of Hollywood's new singing stars, opposite Eddy. The supporting cast includes such stars as Charlie Ruggles, Frank Morgan, Lionel Atwill, C. Aubrey Smith, Joyce Compton, and Dallas Frantz.

The second feature stars the tempestuous Lupe Velez and her inimitable style of comedy, combined with the laugh-making proclivities of the rubber-legged comic, Leon Errol, in "Mexican Spiffire." Others in the cast include Donald Woods, Linda Hayes, and Elizabeth Risdon.

New London Club Prepares for Ski Jumping Tourney

Sixth Annual Meet Will Be Held at Mosquito Hill Jan. 28

New London—With the New London Ski club's Sixth annual ski jumping tournament little more than a week off, this town again is becoming ski meet conscious. The annual tourney sanctioned by the Central United States Ski association will be held a week from Sunday, Jan. 28, at the big Mosquito hill slide a mile east of the city.

Chairmen were named by the club at a meeting Tuesday night to arrange for handling the big annual event which attracted about 5,000 spectators last year.

A bigger and better show is anticipated in every way with the weather as the big deciding factor for the success of the day. The club is yet to be favored with a good jumping day since the hill has been placed in first-class condition.

Even without better weather, breaking of the hill record of 160 feet may be expected with the great improvement to the landing last summer and not yet initiated.

Work of preparing the hill will start tomorrow in the hope that it will be ready for use early next week so that riders of the New London club and other jumpers in the near vicinity may get in advance practice jumps. A number of famous riders from the east coast who now are in the central circuit will be invited to spend the week at New London trying the hill.

In charge of preparing the hill are W. T. Comstock, hill captain, Floyd Granger, Harry Allen and Frank Huebner. Other committee chairmen are as follows: decorating hill, Dr. M. A. Borchart; parking, Dr. George Polzin; ticket sales, H. H. Helms; traffic direction, H. A. Gresenz; lunch stand, F. Mittelstadt and D. N. Vanderveer; toilets and sanitation, F. M. Griswold; accommodation for skiers, Emil Scherke prizes, Attorney Francis A. Werner; banquet, Dr. J. W. Monsted; advanced ticket sales, R. V. Prah; reserved parking, M. C. Trayer; program advertising, Martin Kubisiak; circulating posters and advertising, Herman Platte, G. A. Wells; publicity, W. T. Comstock and A. J. Brault.

Carl Sandburg's Biography Of Lincoln Now at Library

New London — The outstanding biography of recent years, Carl Sandburg's "Abraham Lincoln", is among the new books made available at the New London Public library this week. The author started 20 years ago on the monumental undertaking the first part of the biography appearing earlier under the name of "The Prairie Years". The last, a four volume work, is entitled "The War Years".

The changing ideas and ideals of American education are traced through the last three decades by Mary Ellen Chase in her book "A Goodly Fellowship". Miss Chase writes from her own experience, opening her story as teacher of a class of 49 in a Maine rural school.

"The Sacramento River of Gold" by Julian Dana is the sweeping story of that river, of the building of an early empire, of brown-robed monks, rough-voiced caballeros and dark-eyed senoritas, of the fortyniners, and of visionaries like John Sutter who saw a treasure house of grain in its fertile valley and fought with those who sought the gold below the earth's surface.

Bermuda as it was in the strange and romantic days of the American Civil war, when the island was changed suddenly from peaceful poverty into feverish life and the ruin which followed, is the subject of a novel, "Bride of a Thousand Cedars", by Bruce Lancaster.

"Another Cynthia" by Doris Leslie is the story of Cynthia Bright's rise from obscurity as an innkeeper's daughter and household servant to the toast and beauty of the London of a century ago.

Scop Griddle of the "Citizen", the town's leading newspaper, is the reporter sleuth of the murder mystery, "Curious for the Judge", by Thomas Polsky.

Orville Froelich spilled a 191 line.

Girls Club League

Mrs. Dave Vanderveer paced the Girls club league with a 164 game and 457 total as Dave's Service dropped two games to the leading Carter-Hanson Studios and the New London Constructors followed a close second with two wins over Prah's News.

The Pansies broke a tie with the Daisies and took a lone lead as the ladies finished the first half season yesterday afternoon. The Pansies took two games from the Orchids and the Daisies dropped two to the Roses. Arleen Queenman's 161 line and Mrs. Ralph Restle's 431 count were top marks.

The limiting thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, doped, tired and peevish.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

THE STATE'S OWN JOB

An encouraging sign in efforts to end the economic war that has developed between a number of states is the fact that 40 of the 48 have now set up commissions on interstate cooperation.

A noteworthy point is that the federal government has the authority to put an end to all interstate trade barriers, but it will be much better if the states solve the problem themselves. That the states themselves realize this is indicated by the series of regional conferences which have followed the meeting of the council of state governments. The purpose of this meeting was to establish uniform regulations and the response of all but eight states is most promising.

It scarcely needs emphasizing again that discriminatory quarantine regulations such as those which now bar trade in nursery stock, cattle, citrus fruits and other commodities are ruinous. Free trade between the states is not only a principle of democracy but it also is an essential factor in the economic well being of the entire country. Its restriction would be bad business for all of the states.

Indications that federal authorities were planning to act if the states did not have been increasingly apparent. Solicitor General Jackson stated recently that while "the administration will never lightly throw federal authority into conflict with state policy we will continue to support private litigants and to take direct action in the courts where necessary."

That should be warning enough. Federal intervention would mean absorption of more authority over the states. The states have the power and it is hoped the wisdom to regulate their own affairs, not only for state economic welfare but also for the protection of state's rights.

THE INDEPENDENT VOTE

Both President Roosevelt and his attorney general appointee, Robert H. Jackson, speaking at Jackson day dinners, stressed the necessity of capturing the independent vote to win the forthcoming election.

Both are astute politicians. They know that rock-ribbed Democrats and rock-ribbed Republicans will stay put, regardless of candidates or issues, and that recent elections have been decided by those voters who have no compunctions about switching from one label to another and who, in fact, regard it both a privilege and a duty to vote on candidates and issues rather than on parties.

This political fact probably will be more evident in this election than ever before. The President was right in saying that the independent voters "are more interested in government than in politics," but he should have gone further. The great majority of all voters at this time are more interested in government than politics. So many grave issues face the nation that little comfort can be found in political banner waving.

Of course, much of the old political buncombe will be heard again in the campaign, but the candidate with the best chance will be the one who remembers that the voters, regardless of labels, are primarily concerned with the question of how the trying problems of the day can be solved, and they know that soap box oratory won't do it.

"NO SPINE NOR SPICE"

The innocent bystander in the furore aroused by the ousting of Sir Leslie Hore-Belisha as British war minister appears to be the man chosen to supplant him, Oliver Stanley.

In American language, Mr. Stanley is being "taken for a ride" by the British press. Among the names being applied to him in print are "colorless," "most unsatisfactory" and "do-nothing-er." Perhaps the most pungent characterization of Mr. Stanley is that, "He has good intentions but neither spine nor spice."

Stanley is most assuredly the opposite of Hore-Belisha. Where the latter is impetuous, a go-getter and no worshiper of tradition, Stanley is an unobtrusive wheedler of the appeasement conservatives. Wealthy son-in-law of the Marquess of Londonderry and graduate of the blue-blooded Eton school, he is a former lawyer and stock salesman. Since entering parliament in 1924 he has plodded faithfully along the conservative path and moved from one government post to another, including under-secretary of the home office, minister of transportation, minister of labor, minister of education and president of the board of trade.

His most outstanding work was performed in the last post, in which he did a thorough job and negotiated the Anglo-American trade treaty.

Stanley now succeeds to a place occupied twice by his father, the 17th earl of Derby, who was war minister from 1916 to 1918 and again from 1922 to 1924. Stanley himself was a major in France during the war.

Stanley's career and background explain fully why many Britons fear an open appeasement deal with Hitler is underway. Yet the same qualities which suggest appeasement also would permit the army generals to run the war in their own way, which they evidently could not do under Hore-Belisha.

AN OLD BUILDING

The recent damage by fire to the palace of the Cancellaria in the very heart of Rome turns attention to the ancient character of the building and the quite astonishing fact that part of it has actually been used for about 16 centuries for the purpose for which it was built.

The construction of the little church within its courtyard began in the year 366 at the instance of Pope Damasus who utilized for that purpose blocks and pillars from the nearby Theatre of Pompey. Designed also as a storage place for archives of the church its originator set upon it the following frank inscription:

"I have erected this building for the archives of the Roman church. I have surrounded it with porticoes on either side and I have given it my name which I hope will be remembered for centuries."

The greater palace of the Cancellaria was not constructed until Columbus was nosing his way around Cuba still a bit confused about his inability to find the mainland of India. The mighty blocks used in the construction of this palace were brought from the Colosseum only about a mile away for the Italian people had come into a period of their history where multitudes meeting to observe games or spectacles did not appear to be popular.

Within a short distance from the Cancellaria may be found many spots alive with the seething history of the Rome that was. Close at hand is the Pillar of Pompey, at the foot of which Julius Caesar was surrounded and assassinated, crying out in his last breath those melancholy words of astonishment, "You, too, Brutus!" Nearby is the square called Campo de Fiori upon whose now silent ground many great fires were set to ground to death those who had become obnoxious to the ruling powers. And only a step away is a building known as the College of the English which turned out enthusiastic young men who returned to their native England in Elizabeth's day only to be collared and led off to another fire of fagots for upholding religious ideas that had been banned.

The place of the Cancellaria is one of the few buildings in which no man in the military uniform of Italy enters without removing his arms. And it has thus served during a trying and turbulent period as one of the few spots where peace reigns, and perhaps from which spot good will took root and finally spread afar.

ERIE AMENDS OUR CONSTITUTION

In writing its constitution Ireland adopted generously from ours but appears to have made a marked improvement in an important particular.

Its constitution empowers the supreme court to declare invalid any legislation that transgresses the people's law which is, of course, the constitution. But it adds a provision that we might adopt in toto to our own advantage. It provides that after the legislative body has passed an act, the President, prior to signature, may refer the question of the validity of the act directly to the supreme court. If the supreme court declares the act transgresses the people's directions it falls. If it declares otherwise and the President signs the act all controversy concerning its invalidity with the consequent uncertainty in business is avoided.

Our procedure is slow, cumbersome, and somewhat impractical. When our congress enacts something new in legislative history, such as a considerable part of the New Deal, we are shrouded in great uncertainty for a year, and sometimes two, before a case involving the new acts gets before the supreme court for review.

In the meantime one of the inferior federal courts in Maine holds the act valid, another federal court in California holds it invalid, while a federal court in Missouri holds it about half and half. Business is stymied, labor doesn't know what way it is going and farming may have to stand on its head.

We should have no hesitation in following the Dublin lead to certainty, clarity and understanding.

SHIFTS IN EUROPE

Even the casual observer can find signs that new alignments are forming in Europe. The new pact between Italy and Hungary with Yugoslavia a friendly onlooker, the British cabinet shakeup, the unique silence of Herr Hitler, the recent defiance of little Holland and Rumania to belligerents to "keep out"—all hint at diplomatic chess behind the war fronts.

Some observers believe that by spring the Allies will have made truce with Germany so that all can unite to stop the red menace from Moscow. In any event, the case with which alliances are made and broken in Europe and the secrecy of it all are two more reasons for America to stay away. We might go in on one side and by moving find that our allies had become our enemies and our enemies our allies.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY ROUND

BY DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington—Under Robert Houghout Jackson there will be a very important shift in the crusading activities of the justice department.

Murphy concentrated his fire on corrupt politicians. Jackson will train his guns on the powers behind the politicians—business and utility interests.

This does not mean that the "pols" will be neglected. They need not hope for any let-up. Jackson is going after them just as vigorously as Murphy did, and one of the first places on the list to be tackled is boss-ridden Atlantic city.

Behind this shift in emphasis are two factors. The first is that Jackson is less political-minded than Murphy. Jackson is a relative newcomer in politics and has never held an elective office. Murphy has held a number and his thinking is chiefly in political terms.

The second factor is Jackson's strong economic orientation. Like Murphy, he too has long crusading career but his crusades have been against business powers. As a strapping lawyer just out of school in Jamestown, N. Y., he defended a group of street car strikers when they couldn't get another attorney. A few years later he took up the legal cudgels for the local independent telephone company against the giant A. T. & T. and licked it.

As a 40-year-old assistant attorney general he waded into the mighty Aluminum Corporation of America with anti-trust charges, and followed this up with a tax evasion suit against the late Andrew W. Mellon, former Secretary of the Treasury and ruler of the aluminum field.

In the last two years, as solicitor general, Jackson has hung up the greatest record of supreme court victories on major economic issues in the history of the tribunal.

Associated Gas Jackson believes that at the root of political corruption are economic interests which fatten off these machines and keep them in power. As attorney general his basic policy will be to strike at these hidden forces, and you can write it down that there will be plenty of action.

It may not be spectacular, because Jackson dislikes personal publicity, but it will be the kind that hurts. He wasn't called "Jack the giant killer" in Jamestown for nothing. There will be no private conferences with defendants nor talks about compromises.

One of Jackson's first economic offensives will be in the direction of the $800,000,000 Associated Gas and Electric Co., which went into bankruptcy last week when the Securities and Exchange Commission refused to permit officials to tap the bill for a dividend payment.

The group ruling the A. G. & E. rose filed the bankruptcy petition in a federal court in the little city of Utica in upstate New York. This court had no experience in handling such immense trustships. A. G. & E. investors, backed by SEC and the Justice Department, are demanding that the case be brought to Manhattan, where the chief offices of the corporation are located and where there are experienced judges.

It's an inner administration secret, but Jackson dug into the A. G. & E. situation before he took over the reins as attorney general, and some of his aides are urging that certain criminal proceedings be launched in the not distant future.

Note—Legal adviser of A. G. & E. executives is Jackson's former superior, ex-Attorney General Homer Cummings.

Political-Go-Round

You don't hear anything about him, but behind the scenes Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois and during the 1920s the Midwest candidate for the presidency, is very active in the GOP campaign picture. Middle West leaders are beating a path to his door to discuss the various aspirants, and to get aid and advice on the new active movement to organize a bloc for united action at the convention.

Dr. Francis Townsend is bent on forcing congressmen to undergo another show of hands on his old-age pension plan before election time. He is planning to have one of his House followers introduce a discharge petition in order to compel a rollcall vote on his bill. . . . Another prominent clergyman who has joined the opposition to continuing the Dies committee is Rev. Walton E. Cole, of Toledo, O., dynamic director of the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice.

"Larrupin" Lou

One of the most familiar "pressure boys" on Capitol Hill is roly-poly, apple-cheeked Louis B. Ward, Father Coughlin's Washington generalissimo. Also, he is one of the most mysterious.

Last year when he was actively lobbying for the Coughlin-backed "cost of production" farm bill, Ward vigorously denied he had any connection with the radio priest. Ward's story was that he was for Coughlin's bill, but wasn't working for him.

Congressional veterans who have watched Ward's operations for a number of years were skeptical. But he was very emphatic. "I am not a representative of Father Coughlin," he insisted, "nor am I on his payroll."

When this session opened, one of the earliest lobby birds on the scene was Ward. Breezy as ever and sporting a big white cowboy hat, he was on hand again pumping hard for the Coughlin farm measure. But this time it will be difficult for him to deny any Royal Oak connection, for on the masthead of Coughlin's weekly now appears this interesting item of information: "Editorial Director, Louis B. Ward."

Note—Since his appearance in the breath-taking smother, Ward has been nicknamed in the congressional cloakrooms, "Larrupin" Lou.

Little Oversight

When congress last summer rushed through that $228,500 bill giving each member a new clerk, the boys made one slight oversight.

In their hurry to jam through the pork grab with as little fuss as possible, they forgot to appropriate money to provide the necessary office furniture and typewriters for the additional employees. As a result they are now bombarding House Clerk South Trimble with clamors for the equipment.

But with no money for that purpose Trimble can't help them. Some have proposed to him that he dig into the "contingent fund" of the House. But Trimble, a veteran of many years service on Capitol Hill, is taking no chances. It will cost at least $50,000 to buy the needed equipment and he's not going out on a limb that size.

"This isn't my baby," he tells them. "I didn't vote those extra clerks."

So unless a special resolution authorizing the expenditure is put through, the boys will have to wait until the enactment of the first deficiency bill early in the spring.

Note—Some congressmen are using the additional $1,500-a-year clerk hire, which was justified on the ground that more clerical help was needed in their Washington offices, to employ political assistants in their home towns to look after their political fences.

French experts, under the supervision of the Academy of Agriculture, are experimenting in the use of gases obtained from coal and wood for tractors and other farm machinery.

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—Vice President Garner is putting the bee on fellow candidates to follow his example by announcing for the presidential nomination regardless of whether President Roosevelt seeks a third term.

He has suggested to Postmaster General Farley and Senator Wheeler of Montana that if they wish to court the favors of Dame Democracy they ought to give her an opportunity to "cuddle up" without fear they will run if Roosevelt comes into the picture.

Report has it that only a few minutes before the Jackson day dinner in Washington, Garner twitted Farley about his half and half candidacy and suggested that he address the assembly as "Fellow Candidates."

Farley did exactly that and got a great burst out of the hundred-dollar-a-plate guests. However, Garner people do not accept this little pleasantry on the part of Farley as any indications that he is "all out" for the nomination.

Nor has Wheeler made any statement which even approximately rivals the 48 word statement by which Garner put himself on the dotted line.

Of course, it is not dumb politics for Mr. Garner to try to get more candidates, taken in the mass, would constitute a solid "stop Roosevelt" bloc.

That would be more soup in Garner's bowl, because at present he is, willy nilly, a "stop Roosevelt" movement all by himself.

Eccles To Senate?

A little sister to the third term mystery is whether Marriner S. Eccles, Federal Reserve Board chairman and inventor of part of the New Deal, will run for the Senate in Utah.

Senator King, a foe of much of the New Deal, is up for re-election. Several possible candidates are in the picture. Utah has adopted a general primary since King was nominated last, so it poses a new strategy, both for himself and his opposition.

A constellation of minorities might stop King in a convention, but in a primary it simply would divide the opposition and virtually assure his nomination. That is the picture Eccles sees.

Our information is that he has authorized certain prominent Democrats in Utah to determine whether he can have the field to himself against King. If he can, and further research indicates he has a fair chance to uproot King, he will enter the race, so our informant has it. He won't enter the field just to divide the opposition to King, who has proved himself a formidable candidate in times past.

Defense Attacked Reactions in Congress indicate that President Roosevelt, the army and the navy have not worked the best possible strategy in seeking more money for naval and army upbuilding. There is far more unopposed opposition to the increased defense program than finds its way into print.

Strategic fumble number one appears to have been the scheme for saddling the defense program with the burden of a special defense tax. Members who were not bold enough to come out in the open and fight a defense program of itself are finding the tax scheme a platform from which to hit at both.

Further, there were samples of wrath at what some members felt was an effort to hide a $4,000,000 appropriation to begin development of Guam as a more useful military base. It didn't show up in the budget. Not until Admiral Stark, chief of naval operations, was testifying before the House Naval Affairs Committee did it pop out.

Just a Step Behind the News

By Dave Boone

Hore-Belisha was fired because he was too good. If you can figure that out. The difficulty arose out of "the very great qualities" of the ousted war secretary, according to Mr. Chamberlain's explanation, which just goes to show that in England you're better off if you're not a stand-out in your line.

Neville denied Hore-Belisha was knifed by army biggies and Hore-Belisha discredited this idea himself. So it goes that deep wound in his back was made not by a knife, but by an umbrella.

When those British have any rows they're so polite in explaining 'em that even the biggest sensation of the war is made to seem like an episode in a cricket match. In America politeness under such circumstances would be almost illegal.

Well, the Dionne quintts won't be allowed to be sidshow attractions at any world's fair. The quintts ain't babies any more and it would be too bad to see the young ladies exhibited in a carnival atmosphere. And they don't need to worry about money. They had a better year than American Telephone and Telegraph.

I think the whole thing is just a new movie starring them in "Gone with the Wind" and featuring five Scarlett O'Haras.

FINE WORK

Houston, Tex.—(AP)—Joe Thomas, 34-year-old negro, was fined for aggravated assault 10 years ago. While the case was on appeal he disappeared.

Deputy Sheriff E. J. Buckley, checking over some old records, ran across the delinquent account. Curiosity got the better of him and he checked the list of prisoners. He discovered that Joe Thomas was languishing in jail that very moment, as the result of domestic trouble.

Buckley went upstairs and presented the 10-year-old bill to the inmate.

BETWEEN THE DEVIL AND THE DEEP SEA—

Under the CAPITOL DOME

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—Events have taken a sharp turn in the capitol in the last few weeks, a turn in the administration's favor.

Although not one person in ten six months ago would have given Governor Heil an even chance of finishing his term with a satisfactory financial record, a chance of approaching a balanced budget, it is now highly probable that the state will be solvent during his term.

Perhaps it has been accomplished by unorthodox means. But the surprising fact remains that instead of the $17,000,000 deficit which the legislature bequeathed them last October, Heil's financial assistants can now prove on paper that if all goes even moderately well during the next year, the administration will have achieved a nearly balanced budget.

That is not to say that there may not be times during the next few months when the treasury will be perilously close to being empty. One of the principal remaining worries is the low cash balance. There may be some months when demands will exceed that balance, and other obligations will have to be postponed in the manner of cities' highway privilege tax payments. But the over all financial picture is now promising, in contrast to the bleak prospects of last fall.

Heil Luck

It may be pointed out that the situation is in part due to some extremely happy developments for Governor Heil. Had the cities not agreed to accept their payments in installments last month, the state would have been nearly broke. Had the supreme court not upheld his pension veto this week, the financial situation would again have been a turmoil, the legislature would have returned, and the best laid plans of the administration would have been irretrievably upset.

Here is the way in which the administration has erased the fearful, historic $17,000,000 deficit left when the legislature turned tail for home four months ago.

1. Heil knocked out $2,500,000 in appropriations from the pension bills.

2. He will manage to get along with about $3,000,000 instead of the $5,000,000 budgeted for relief.

3. He has taken $8,000,000 from the highway budget for the benefit of the general fund.

4. He can, and probably will, postpone the $1,700,000 item budgeted for payment to the teachers' retirement fund.

5. His emergency board has already reduced department appropriations by about $2,000,000.

6. The cigarette tax will probably yield $1,000,000 more than originally estimated, while the tax commission, with some justification, hopes for a million dollar boost in income tax yields this spring from 1939 income taxes.

7. There may be further departmental economies, such as the abolition of regional highway and tax offices, reduction of payrolls, etc., while there may conceivably be an economy showing this year resulting from school consolidation bills enacted in 1939.

Near Balance Of course, the supreme court this week knocked out several hundred thousands of dollars a year in in-

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

CRI GETS AROUND

Some day I'll receive a letter from a reader who, in all sincerity, hopes I will tell my readers something about health some time.

Today came two letters, one from London, Ontario, the other from Miami, Florida, urging that I point out the serious risk of contracting a grave illness (in the one instance infantile paralysis is mentioned, in the other influenza) from a person who persists in remaining at work or at school when he or she has an alleged "cold."

This irks me, to put it mildly. For twenty-five years, week days, Sundays and holidays I have been hammering away on that point.

What the blue blazes—honestly I believe the "common cold" delusion, so fondly cherished by the laity and the anile school of medical practitioners, is a curse visited on the world by some evil genius.

This quaint eighteenth century notion that cold, change of weather, dampness, draft and almost any nature you happen to have is today a formidable obstacle in the way of the prevention of the respiratory infections—illnesses which make three-fourths of the everyday work of physicians in general and special practice. And today physicians and specialists of standing and repute still contend, in occasional contributions, that under some such circumstances (exposure to cold or wet) some individuals may develop some vague unidentified illness—these doctors are never quite specific about it, so it is useless to argue with them. The thing amounts to this: If a big shot in the profession chooses to say there is no doubt that exposure to cold or wet is a cause or a contributing factor of illness, that's that. The grand old public, the dumb public, still likes to believe great doctors are competent to pronounce things thus and so. This pleasant tradition the big shots naturally like to perpetuate. It is what makes them eminent.

Well, here is some elementary hygiene the soundness and truth of which probably no physician will venture to question. Every one of the respiratory infections, from influenza to diphtheria, is most communicable, in sneeze, cough or conversation moisture spray, in the stage of onset, before the sower or peddler of the infection himself or herself feels quite ill enough to go to bed or to rest from work or play.

Happily I note that in a steadily increasing number of schools, offices and plants where individuals are necessarily in prolonged close contact, within conversation spray range (up to five feet) from one another, it is the rule that teacher, executive, pupil or employee, manager or clerk, shall not come to school or to work if he or she has anything purporting to be a "cold"; in some schools or offices it is the duty of physicians or nurse to spot any one who endeavors to fetch his infection to school or work and send come by invalidating a part of the privilege dividend tax, and it is possible that some of the refunds ordered in that decision may have to be made earlier than the administration expects.

But for the first time since he entered office, Governor Heil has a real chance to break even in his state financing. It is not at all unlikely that his record will be as good—on budget balancing—as that of his predecessor, and maybe it will be better. Since everyone acknowledges that Heil encountered a forbidding financial muddle when he entered office, Republicans will not be slow to claim that as a feather in his political cap.

him or her home until the illness is over. For this forward step we have to thank the increasing health intelligence of the laity.

Looking Backward

25 YEARS AGO

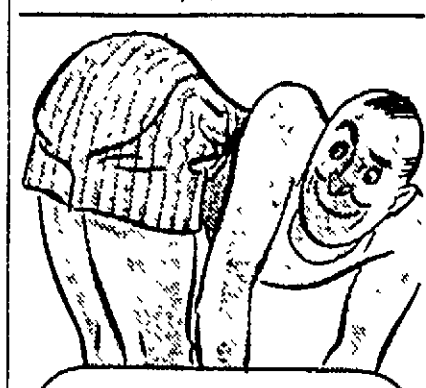

Thursday, Jan. 21, 1915 Little Chute residents closed all places of business and declared a holiday to celebrate the anniversary of the twenty-fifth year that the Rev. Theodore Kneitel had been a priest there.

A new German assault on Soissons had begun any many buildings were on fire. British reinforcements were being rushed to the scene. The Turkish retreat from Caucasus had turned into a rout. French had advanced their trenches to within 16 miles of the Rhine river.

10 YEARS AGO

Thursday, Jan. 16, 1930 A resolution to repeal the eighteenth amendment was offered in the Senate that day by Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, who asserted experience had demonstrated that prohibition had been a "failure." Another resolution to declare the eighteenth amendment inoperative on the ground that it had been ratified by only 10 states was introduced in the house by Representative LaGuardia, Republican, New York. Prohibition then was 10 years old.

F. N. Belanger was reelected president of the Valley Council of Boy Scout at the annual meeting in Knights of Pythias hall Wednesday evening. Others reelected were H. L. Gear, Menasha, first vice president; E. A. Cahall, second vice president; E. A. Dettman, treasurer; M. G. Clark, secretary and scout executive, and E. A. Killoran, scout commissioner. Members of the executive board were Chris Mullen, William Falalick, Belanger, Killoran, Dettman, William Buchanan, H. H. Heilig, all of Appleton; David Green, Gear, H. Landgraf, Mowry Smith, L. T. Jourdain, George Banta, Jr., Neenah-Menasha, and Dr. J. N. Donovan, Kaukauna.

Midwest Has Mild Interest In 1940 Presidential Race

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER
Cleveland—In traveling about the middle west for two weeks I have found only the mildest interest in the presidential race. Perhaps it is too early. I do not think that is the real explanation. No Democratic nor Republican presidential aspirant arouses more than the most casual interest. Of the lot, I hear more questions about young Mr. Dewey, than anyone else, with perhaps Vice-President Garner as runner-up in popular interest, such as it is.

One editor may have put his finger on the explanation when he said that President Roosevelt so dominates the scene, so fully occupies the popular imagination—favorably or unfavorably—that other figures seem flat and colorless by comparison. Certainly here in Ohio the Republicans take Senator Robert A. Taft in their stride, and a number of them would just as soon have Governor Bricker. It's all rather perfunctory. Nothing like the feeling, the intense feeling for or against a man, that you have over Al Smith or Calvin Coolidge or Herbert Hoover or Franklin Roosevelt. Those were big-league stars, even before they were nominated.

Clapper Among the Republicans, Mr. Dewey alone stirs such curiosity and interest. Professional politicians tend to guess that Senator Vandenberg of Michigan is most likely to be nominated by the Republicans. But you hear almost no questions about him. It is Dewey they want to know about. He hasn't said anything yet but most people think he was. They can't tell you what he stands for. He is against pessimism and is for optimism, yet in the popular imagination he is a clear-cut figure, aggressive, positive, frank, outspoken—he's got just that much of the old what-it-takes!

Questions About Foreign Policy May Put Dewey On The Spot
Of course, as one Republican politician said, when they begin asking Dewey questions he may fold up. He is trying to avoid foreign-policy discussion. He will be hounded until he does speak. Senator Borah and some of the other western isolationists suspect Mr. Dewey of being under the influence of the Henry Stimson school, which is defined in the western lexicon as interventionist. Senator Vandenberg and Senator Taft are on record about everything; perhaps that accounts for the comparative lack of curiosity about them. Among Democratic aspirants it is old man Garner that people ask about. He interests them. They want to know if he is seriously in the race to win or just to beat President Roosevelt for a third term. They want to know about Mr. Roosevelt's attitude toward him. For Secretary Cordell Hull there is respect, and almost no criticism save where the reciprocal trade program encounters sectional opposition, and even there it doesn't bite Mr. Hull in any savage way. But he

University Women Hear Talk On Chief Alaskan Commodities

SALMON, seals and gold, three of Alaska's chief commodities and how they are obtained, were described by John Norman, Alaskan traveler and physics teacher at Manitowoc High school, in an address before the Appleton branch of the American Association of University Women Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. T. E. Orblison, 211 S. Rankin street.

Speaking first of the salmon industry, Mr. Norman told of the big dam which had been built at the mouth of the Columbia river, where the salmon later caught along the Alaskan coast spawn. Attached to the dam is a device which counts the number of salmon of each kind that go over the dam, the number controlling the opening and closing of the fishing season.

Why genuine sealskin coats are so expensive was explained when Mr. Norman pointed out that it costs the United States government about $75 a skin to get and ship the skins to St. Louis, where they are auctioned off to furriers. Five to seven skins make a fur coat. Mr. Norman explained that the seals are killed by the natives, called Indians but actually part Russian and part Eskimo, who skin the animals and use the carcasses for fish food.

Tells of Settlement While in Alaska Mr. Norman also visited the government's new settlement at Matanuska, around which has grown up a city as modern as the average city in the United States, he said. The first contingent of settlers is well off, he declared, but the second contingent he termed largely riff-raff that will have to be shipped out again.

Mr. Norman also took his listeners up the Yukon river into the gold fields and ended his lecture with a recitation in character, of the famed Alaskan poem, "Spell of the Yukon."

At the business session which preceded his address the main topic for discussion was the book sale the association will sponsor Jan. 26 and 27 in the lobby of the Zuelke building. Books will be received all day Thursday, as well as Friday morning, and the sale will open Friday noon, continuing Friday afternoon and evening and all day Saturday.

Downtown Area Partly Cleared Of Snow at Curbs

Loading Machine Will Start on North Side Of Avenue Tonight

City street department crews made up for lost time last night and this morning when they cut a sizable dent in the snow piles at curbs of downtown streets.

The snow loading machine, which was in the department barn for repairs yesterday, was put to work at 1 o'clock this morning with enough trucks and men to keep the snow moving.

At noon today the crews had cleared the snow from areas on the removal schedule on Superior street, Appleton street, Oneida street and part of Washington street. The removal area east of Oneida street was expected to be cleared by tonight.

The loading machine will begin work on the north side of College avenue about 12 o'clock tonight and that part of the street probably will be cleared of snow by morning. The south side of the avenue was cleared earlier in the week.

Removal crews will move to the Wisconsin avenue business district as soon as work in the downtown section is completed.

The shovel crews, employed yesterday to load snow while the machine was laid up for repairs, were put to shoveling sidewalks and intersections today.

One of the city's two graders was useless last night and today because of a broken axle. The machine broke down about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon while widening streets on the south side of the river. It is expected to be back in service tonight.

Yesterday's accident was the third since Sunday. An axle on one of the big trucks plowing snow was broken earlier in the week and the truck lost about seven hours of service. The snow loader was down a full day because a bearing in the water pump burned out.

Other city crews were working today to widen streets in outlying districts and in clearing intersections.

CLASS STUDIES SPECIFIC HEAT OF ALUMINUM

The specific heat of aluminum is the problem bothering the group of boys shown above, all members of the physics class at Appleton High school. The class is taught by Clem Ketchum. In the picture left to right are: Harley Henke, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Henke, 1473 W. Prospect avenue; Maurice E. Cartier, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Cartier, Sr., 1326 W. ### Students in Physics Class Measure Heat Of Aluminum in Test

Students in the physics classes of Appleton High school have been getting their steam boilers hot to measure the specific heat of aluminum. After the water has reached the boiling point an aluminum cylinder is heated in it. The cylinder is then plunged into cold water and the temperature of the water measured to discover how much heat the aluminum has lost and the water gained.

According to Clem Ketchum, head of the physics department, the usual percentage of error conceded in a heat experiment is 10 per cent, but with the excellent equipment at the high school students are held to a 6 per cent error maximum.

The heat experiment is typical of the work which is conducted in the physics laboratory. There are 14 complete sets of equipment, and students work in groups of two. For the heat experiment a calorimeter, balance, weights, thermometer, reading glass and Bunsen burner were needed in addition to the steam boiler and the aluminum cylinder.

The device is being brought to Appleton as part of the activity in connection with the raising of money to combat infantile paralysis. Every 21-year-old person in the county will be invited to attend the meetings which will be under the supervision of a select group having special instruction in conducting the sessions.

Flags of 60 Nations Displayed at Senior High School Library

The flags of 60 nations grouped around Old Glory are now on display in the library of Appleton High school. All but three have been identified by student assistants. Some of the countries represented include Venezuela, Lithuania, Peru, Egypt, Luxembourg, Argentina and Siam. The flags have been purchased by the library and are now a permanent possession.

A bulletin board which forms a background for the display shows material which discusses the proper method of displaying the American flag, flag codes and the story of the American flag and the writing of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Another bulletin board in the library contains monographs on vocational guidance which have been recently published by the NYA. Among the 22 vocations discussed are air conditioning, the automobile industry and the diesel occupations. The booklets present both the attractive and the unattractive phases of the work, the opportunities for advancement, income fees and salaries and a description of a typical day's work. These materials are made available especially for the senior home rooms which are making a special study of vocational aptitudes and opportunities.

Four Acquitted In Detroit Case

But Judge Says Trial Reeks With Perjury; Men Re-Arrested

Detroit.—The four defendants in the puzzling Dr. Martin B. Robinson robbery case were acquitted yesterday after a trial which the judge said contained perjury and "in many respects reeked."

The men were rearrested immediately and Detective Inspector Edward Graff said they would be charged with carrying concealed weapons.

This is the case which resulted in the big police shakeup. Last July it was a routine robbery case. The defendants, Lewis Jacobs, Irving Feldman, Sidney Cooper and Joseph Holt, maintained the holdup was faked so that Dr. Robinson could pay them a gambling debt and at the same time recover insurance. A recorder's court jury acquitted the four after deliberating less than three hours.

When the four were arrested, more than $1,000 in new bills and several guns were confiscated. Where most of the money went is a subject of various conflicting claims and charges.

In any case, the new police commissioner, Frank D. Eaman, made it plain he believed "the fix" was put on several policemen.

Rubbish Collection Is Postponed to Tuesday

and matron, the weighmaster, janitor and election board officials as well as all other classifications of city employees including the fire and police departments.

Alderman Doerfler submitted the informal meeting report in the form of a resolution and on all votes taken previous to the committee of the whole meeting, dissenting votes were cast by Aldermen Brautigam, Knijit and McGillan.

The status of aldermen's salaries, pending the decision of the state supreme court on the wage suit started by aldermen in municipal court, made the final decision of the council confusing.

The referendum adopted by the electorate last April cut the wages of councilmen from $500 to $250 per year but Municipal Judge Thomas H. Ryan ruled the referendum was too late to set the wages of aldermen elected last year and set the wages back to $500 per year.

"City officials appealed the case to the supreme court and a decision is not expected until the latter part of February or early March. However, the state law says that salaries must be set at the first meeting in February so the aldermen placed the amount at $400 per year for new aldermen, the amount to stand if the supreme court rules the referendum invalid.

May Be Effective

Judge Ryan, however, indicated that the referendum would be effective at the end of the terms of present aldermen, nine of them next April and the remaining nine in April of 1941.

If the supreme court makes the same decision, the salaries for aldermen will be $250 per year despite the council's action last night.

When Alderman Doerfler's report of the informal meeting was read by City Clerk Carl J. Becker, Alderman McGillan said: "I left the meeting early but there seems to be something missing in the report. Is somebody trying to keep something quiet?"

Mayor Goodland replied: "I don't know. You had a meeting but it seems that I'm not a part of this council anymore. I asked for a meeting to discuss salaries but I heard the remark made by an alderman that 'we don't want anyone there but the aldermen.'"

Wasn't Notified

Alderman Brautigam said he wasn't even notified of the informal meeting and didn't say any words. Alderman Grignon wanted to know what was left out of the report.

Alderman Doerfler, who took the minutes of the informal session, said he marked everything down and nothing was left out to his knowledge.

Alderman VanderHeyden explained that he "had been told that the mayor said he'd have nothing to do with the meeting."

"So I, as president of the council, advised the meeting as I thought it advisable to talk about our salaries informally rather than have a big oration in here," he stated.

Alderman Knijit told the council that the mayor should have been asked to the meeting and that if he had been there many points could have been straightened out with a lot less argument. He reminded the council that the referendum on the 18-day plan was upheld by the attorney general and added that the salary referendum "no doubt will work too."

Brooks No Interruption

"How many aldermen can stand on their own two feet and know what they're talking about," Alderman McGillan asked. Alderman Keller attempted to answer the question and Alderman McGillan shouted: "You sit down. I got the floor."

After a vote on the question, someone asked what had been done and the mayor answered: "If you don't know what you've done then no one does."

The council then adjourned to committee of the whole.

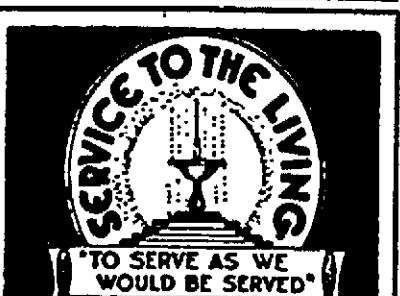

After a lengthy discussion of various trucks, the council voted to buy an International machine from the Milhaupt Spring and Auto company for $1,180. The vote was 9 to 7 with two aldermen absent. The discussion centered around the International and Ford trucks. The Ford bid, submitted by the August Brandt company was $1,034.

Reconsider Action

At the last council meeting aldermen rejected the bid of the Milhaupt company but voted to reconsider on the motion of Alderman McGillan last night. A minority report recommending the Ford bid was made by Alderman Grignon because, he said, the truck cost $150 less than the International.

The council denied an application of the Glendale Sanitary district in the town of Grand Chute to discharge sewage into the Appleton system at Meade street. The Meade and Rankin street sewers are inadequate to carry the extra load, it was said.

The city engineer was authorized to buy re-enforced steel for the abutments of the Spencer street grandstand, the cost not to exceed $150. Plans for the grandstand were approved and the work is expected to start within a week under a WPA project.

Apartment Building

A request for information on whether it would be possible to construct a 12-apartment building on property just east of the former Priest home was submitted by August Laabs, real estate dealer, in behalf of Fred Hoffman, who owns the property. The request was referred to the city plans commission.

A charge of 10 cents per year for snow removal on certain mandatory streets was voted by councilmen with Alderman Thompson voting against the charge.

When the list of streets was read, Alderman VanderHeyden and Alderman Wickham asked to have the charge reduced to five cents on Franklin street because the street is mainly residential and only 40 feet wide. They contended the charge should be less because many of the property holders would receive no business benefits from snow removal.

Alderman Brautigam moved to refer the street back to the committee and Alderman VanderHeyden objected saying: "This referring back is getting to be a joke. The charge should apply only where property owners would get a business benefit."

Against Charge

Alderman Franke said he voted against making any charge for residents when the committee met and asked if a charge would be made against churches for snow removal. The question wasn't settled at the meeting but the Franklin street problem was referred back to the committee.

Alderman Thompson reminded the council that all the questions brought up about snow removal proved the council is inviting trouble by making a charge.

"I want to vote against any charge for snow removal," he said. "I think snow removal is a service the city owes to citizens who pay taxes. The cost should not be loaded on to the individual."

Following is the list of streets as approved by the council:

Removal Schedule

Following are the streets on which snow removal charges will be made, provided the council approves in downtown alleys, Appleton street from Pacific street to Lawrence street, Baiter street from railroad tracks to Dunlap street, College avenue from Locust street to Drew street, Durkee street from John street to alley south of College avenue.

Grant Licenses

A license to operate a tavern at 211 S. Walnut street was granted to Nan Schmidt for the remainder of the license year. Operators' licenses were granted to Clarence Bendit, 1235 W. Lorain street, Howard Fien, 518 E. Spring street, and Arthur Diener, 506 W. Walnut street.

The council ordered new ornamental lighting poles for the Lawrence college campus to replace cluster lights now in use. The poles will cost about $170 and will effect a saving of about $55 per year, the committee reported.

Jaces to Present Service Award at Banquet Meeting

Young Man Who Has Done Most for Community Will be Honored

The Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce will present its annual service award at a banquet Monday night at Hotel Appleton.

The award is made each year to a young man under 35 years of age who has done most for the community during the preceding year.

Selection is made by a committee composed of Mayor John Goodland, Jr., presidents of service clubs, and two members of the Jaces. Mayor Goodland will make the award.

Fast winners of the award have been invited to attend the banquet. Carl Holstrom was the winner a year ago. Six other young men this year will receive honorable mention. H. L. Davis, Jr., president of the Jaces, said today.

The Jaces will discuss plans for their Fourth of July celebration and name committees for Rural Youth day, held each spring.

The meeting will also be in observance of the 21st anniversary of the founding of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Similar observations are being conducted by Jaces throughout the nation with a total of about 110,000 members and 750 member organizations.

Competition Rules To be Considered by Chamber Committee

A report of the National Chamber of Commerce on regulation of competition will be studied by a committee of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce at 4:30 this afternoon.

After the study, the committee will vote on the issues and will submit its report to the national organization.

Following are the issues to be considered: "Any proposals having for their object the control of industries by governmental agencies should be opened."

"The patent system should be maintained without impairment, including freedom of patentees to grant licenses restricted as to use."

"Existing remedies under the anti-trust laws are ample and can and should be enforced in an orderly manner."

"Proposals for addition of more civil remedies to the anti-trust laws should be opposed."

"Extension of section 7 of the Clayton act to give the federal trade commission authority as to acquisition of assets by corporations should be opposed."

"Such rights as the anti-trust laws now contain to permit reasonable arrangements should be preserved."

On the committee are John H. Neller, chairman, C. K. Boyer, Charles S. Boyd and H. C. Getshow.

Mrs. Borah is constantly in attendance.

Miss Rubin declared that the senator suffers no pain and is breathing regularly.

Borah had been confined to his bed since the fall. He is under the care of Dr. Worth Daniels, his physician, and his injuries at first were not believed to be extremely serious.

Miss Rubin said this morning that there apparently had been a change for the worse in Borah's condition during the night.

Half an hour later, Miss Rubin reported the senator was sleeping and breathing normally.

"We do not expect any change in his condition today," she said. "His condition is critical and we just don't know when there will be a change."

Friends said that Borah, who would complete 33 years of service in the senate on March 4, had been taking special precautions to guard his health since his illness in 1938.

He rested daily in his office, often chatting with reporters while lying on a divan covered with an army blanket.

Doubling of Slam Seldom Is Wise Move

BY ELY CULBERTSON
I cannot repeat too often that doubling of slams voluntarily bid by good players are extremely unwise in 95 cases out of 100. Of course, when a defender holds two trump tricks, and can be sure that they will make even if the doubled contract is rescued with another suit or no trump, he may with safety interject a penalty double. But side suit strength alone usually is insufficient. The information unavailably given declarer as to its location often defeats the doubler's purpose.

The bidding:

South West North East
4 hearts Pass 6 hearts Double
Redouble Pass Pass Pass

North's slam bid over South's preempt was pretty much of a "stab." He knew it was simply a question of how the hands would fit and realized that there were not enough rounds of bidding left to discover this scientifically. As a matter of fact, it should be observed that the hands fit very badly. South's ace of spades was completely worthless, and the diamond queen doubled instead of the club queen would have made twelve tricks a laydown.

South's preemptive bid was so sound that he felt justified in redoubling the slam to which his partner had taken him.

As it happened, West's opening lead, altho normal and not open to criticism, acted as compensation for the bad fit of the North-South hands. He selected the queen of spades. Since no discard in dummy was valuable, dummy ruffed the lead and led a trump. Declarer's entire eight card trump suit was run off and the spade ace was cashed, leaving three cards in each hand. Dummy's were the blank king of diamonds and the ace and small club. Declarer's were the diamond and queen and small club. East was "hooked." He had to blank the diamond ace in order to protect his club king, whereupon he was thrown on lead with the ace and had to lead away from his king to the combined tenace held by declarer and dummy.

Without East's double to indicate the ace of diamonds, declarer might well have played West for that vital card, leading up to the king at an early stage to establish a discarding opportunity for his losing club. Of course, had West been able to guess a better opening lead, the contract would have been defeated by trick.

CANCELLING ENGAGEMENT
A rule of good manners, which everyone at some time or another would like to evade, is presented by a young girl in Chicago who asks, "if a girl has already made an engagement to go to the movies with several girl friends, when a boy asks her for a date for the same evening is she being rude in cancelling her engagement with the girls and going with the boy? I mean are there no exceptions to the rule that an engagement made is an engagement to be kept no matter how many more attractive things present themselves after making it? I'm in Dutch with these girl friends because I changed my mind about them and went out with a boy. But I'll bet each one of the other girls would have done the same thing. However, I'll like to know whether you think I was wrong."

Answer: That a first engagement may not be thrown aside for a second more attractive one is one of the really important rules of proper behavior. In this instance, it is true, there were several girls who could go to the movies quite well without you, and you did not spoil the evening for any one as you would have done had you deserted one girl alone. All the same, you were in the wrong on three counts: Not only did you break a rule of courtesy, but you gave the girls a chance to call you "boy crazy." Third, if the boy ever hears you did this for him he won't even be flattered—he'll agree with the girls and

It has become an established fact that food plays a very important part in our lives. Of course, you say, food has always played an important part in our lives! But let's get behind that statement.

We eat to live, yes, but we are just beginning to learn that what we eat makes a great difference in how we live, how successful we will be, and how physically perfect our bodies will be. Food scientists now tell us (from actual tests) that certain foods contain the vitamins which tend to build strong bones, which provide energy—and well-balanced combinations of all foods is the best preventive so far discovered. If you eat correctly, and exercise as you should, illness will be prevented and so will premature old age.

Feed the Young

Naturally the best time to begin building perfect bodies is when we are young. Mothers should take time to learn about food. The old-fashioned meat-and-potatoes meal no longer serves. Your child must get fruits and vegetables, whole grains, honey, nuts and milk. think you just a little cheap. As a matter of fact, you may very well have lost a chance to make a lasting impression by saying, "I'm sorry I can't go tonight because I've promised Jane and Mary and Alice to go with them. But I'd love to go with you if you'll ask me some other time!" If this situation comes up again, this is what I think you should do—if you want to be thought well of.

Breaking Your Sister of Bad Habits

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister is fifteen years old; time to grow up and have some manners. She is such a little smart-aleck that she really embarrasses me terribly by the things she says to my friends. They laugh or listen to her, but I don't believe they think she's funny. What can we do to break her of this habit?

Answer: If she is merely playing to the gallery, then ask your friends to help you by paying no attention to her. If her motive is a mischievous one—if her object is to tease and disconcert—the answer is the same. She will grow equally tired of "playing to an empty house," or of shooting arrows that never hit anything.

Mrs. Post is sorry she can no longer answer personal letters. She is glad however to have many printed slips on a variety of subjects to offer to her readers. Today's slip is "An Etiquette Test." Patri Emphasizes Importance Of Expressing Appreciation

BY ANGELO PATRI

Children need friends among the grown up people, and the best way to win them is to teach the children good manners from the start. The chief rule, the first one to be learned, is: Consider other people. If that rule is learned and practiced the rest will come easily.

Little children should not race about the living-room when people are in it. (Racing should be confined to outdoors, but children have to be taught that fact.)

Little children should not hang on grown people's arms, or laps, or backs. They should never touch anybody familiarly until they have been assured their notice is welcome.

Screaming and shouting in the house, and especially making such noises to attract the attention of guests in the next room, is not done by well-mannered children.

It is being bad-mannered to handle the belongings of guests. Children must not touch fur pieces, handbags, wraps. It is especially ill-mannered to try on hats and wrap furs about their necks and then make a grand entrance, expecting applause.

Some Social Sins

Staring at a visitor, asking questions, breaking into the conversation by turning on the radio, or calling, "Look at me," are social sins little children are likely to commit.

It is bad-mannered for older children to enter a room where there is a guest and back out again without speaking to him.

It is bad-mannered, too, to be too gay in greeting the guest. "O, hullo, I didn't know you were here," is bad. Stand near by, smile, wait for the older person to speak, and then bow and say, "How do you do?" Look at your mother for a hint to go or stay and do, promptly and quietly. That is the better way.

Always Express Gratitude

When an elderly friend of the family does a young person a kindness it is the duty of that young person, and it should be his privilege, to write a note of thanks for the kindness. It is disheartening to think up a suitable birthday gift, pack it and mail it, and get never a word of thanks. Bad manners cannot go lower than that.

After a visit good manners demand a note of thanks to the hostess. Young people are not to dash off a line or two that has no personal feeling in it. Better take a little time and make a little effort to write a note distinctly your own.

Good manners do not come by wishing for them. Children have to learn and practice them in the family circle. Then they have to be carefully and persistently led to practice them on the people they meet. Good manners make good friends, and children and young people can never have too many of them.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Alcohol is, therefore, a quick source of energy. At the same time, moreover, it is next to pure fat in caloric value, so it adds to your waist line if you don't take care.

It's food value, moreover, is not an economical one, for you can procure more energy or caloric values from a 5-cent candy bar than from a 25-cent shot of whiskey.

"Whom else might you marry?" he demanded. "Jim Kettle?" She was silent for a moment. When she spoke it was with an air of dignity which impressed even Trenton's impatience.

"That is a question you have no right to ask, Bob! I doubt if you have the right even to talk to me at all on such a subject—after so brief an acquaintance. Please don't do it again!" She rose and moved toward the door, and perforce he followed her.

He avoided her for the rest of the evening, a fact which did not escape Barbara Webb's sharp eyes. "Quarrelled," she formed the word over Allen's shoulder as they swept near Sue and the contentedly hopping Jim Kettle. Sue shook her head. It was more than a quarrel, she told herself. She had lost Bob Trenton for good. No more telephone calls, no more conversational audacities, no more spur-of-the-moment plans, carried out with a lavishness of time and money impossible to the other men she knew. The quickening tempo of the last three weeks would slow to every-day pace.

She was half glad and half sorry. Going about with Bob Trenton had been like driving a high-powered racing car; thrilling but very dangerous. The slightest carelessness the merest obstacle in the road, and one would find one's self metaphorically with a broken neck.

"Still, it was fun while it lasted," she sighed as she prepared for bed that night. "And much as I hate to admit it, I suppose Forest was right: Bob was amusing himself with me! He pushed it pretty far, though. I wonder what he'd have done if I'd taken him up tonight? Found some way to squirm out of it, of course. He must have had loads of experience at it!"

She concentrated at the resentment this idea aroused, knowing that only anger would drive out a certain feeling of hollowness, of blankness which overcame her at the realization there would be no more Bob Trenton in her life.

Sue Davenport was a person of character. Having decided during what, to her fury, had proved to be sleepless hours of the night, that all thought of Bob Trenton was to be put out of her mind, she promptly made gay plans at the breakfast table.

Allen listened somewhat absently. When the telephone rang he sprang to answer it before Maggie could reach the hall.

CASE RECORDS OF A PSYCHOLOGIST

Psychologist, Northwestern University

If you want to produce temporary feeble-mindedness in an intelligent adult, just anesthetize his nervous system with alcohol. The dangerous effects of liquor begin with the first drink and don't require complete intoxication. Last year over 25% of auto accidents were attributed to "a few drinks" by the motorist. He didn't know he was 10% slower in his movements as a result of these highballs. Be sure to paste this Case Record in your scrap-books.

Sherwood—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Wagner Sunday morning at St. Elizabeth hospital, Appleton.

Again, you will hear of the medicinal value of alcohol. The old time physician prescribed it for everything, from snake bite to pneumonia. But nowadays we seldom have medical use for alcohol, save as a vehicle or solvent in which to dissolve other important drugs.

Tincture of iodine, for example, is iodine in an alcoholic solution.

The Psychology of Alcohol
The dangerous effect of alcohol, however, is the fact that it immediately begins to dull or anesthetize our nervous system, including the brain.

As a result, our speed of movement is slowed down an average of 10%. Unfortunately, too, the victim is not aware of this slowing down. He thinks he moves just as quickly as before he took the drink of whiskey.

So he delays too long in applying his auto brakes, or he fails to get his hand from under the punch press. As a result, he crashes or loses a finger.

This dulling of the nervous system may increase, until an intelligent adult drops to the mental level of a 12-year-old, where slap-stick humor is the rule. He thinks everything is unaccountably funny.

But the dulling effect continues and he may reach the stage of a 6-year-old, where he quarrels and fights, or is vulgar and tells risqué stories which he wouldn't think of telling if his brain was functioning normally.

More Deterioration Under Alcohol
Since our moral judgment and ethical habits are based on a reasonable degree of active intelligence, for hogs are too dumb to be moral and honest, as soon as we anesthetize the brain with liquor, the victim may indulge in immorality, vice and gambling. He may in grandiose style squander his pay check, when a wife and children are anxiously waiting at home, hungry and desolate.

There is no sob story or overdrawn picture. You readers should see my mail each week if you want to witness the inside story of alcohol from the psychological angle. Alcohol is a depressant drug, which slows our actions and our thinking. It is also an escape mechanism, as tomorrow's case will show.

YESTERDAY: Impetuous Bob Trenton tries to sweep Sue off her feet. He asks her to marry him. She refuses.

Chapter Six

Warfare

"Whom else might you marry?" he demanded. "Jim Kettle?" She was silent for a moment. When she spoke it was with an air of dignity which impressed even Trenton's impatience.

"That is a question you have no right to ask, Bob! I doubt if you have the right even to talk to me at all on such a subject—after so brief an acquaintance. Please don't do it again!" She rose and moved toward the door, and perforce he followed her.

He avoided her for the rest of the evening, a fact which did not escape Barbara Webb's sharp eyes. "Quarrelled," she formed the word over Allen's shoulder as they swept near Sue and the contentedly hopping Jim Kettle. Sue shook her head. It was more than a quarrel, she told herself. She had lost Bob Trenton for good. No more telephone calls, no more conversational audacities, no more spur-of-the-moment plans, carried out with a lavishness of time and money impossible to the other men she knew. The quickening tempo of the last three weeks would slow to every-day pace.

She was half glad and half sorry. Going about with Bob Trenton had been like driving a high-powered racing car; thrilling but very dangerous. The slightest carelessness the merest obstacle in the road, and one would find one's self metaphorically with a broken neck.

"Still, it was fun while it lasted," she sighed as she prepared for bed that night. "And much as I hate to admit it, I suppose Forest was right: Bob was amusing himself with me! He pushed it pretty far, though. I wonder what he'd have done if I'd taken him up tonight? Found some way to squirm out of it, of course. He must have had loads of experience at it!"

She concentrated at the resentment this idea aroused, knowing that only anger would drive out a certain feeling of hollowness, of blankness which overcame her at the realization there would be no more Bob Trenton in her life.

Sue Davenport was a person of character. Having decided during what, to her fury, had proved to be sleepless hours of the night, that all thought of Bob Trenton was to be put out of her mind, she promptly made gay plans at the breakfast table.

Allen listened somewhat absently. When the telephone rang he sprang to answer it before Maggie could reach the hall.

"For you," he told his sister "Trenton again. Starts the day rather early, doesn't he?"

Sue's hand shook a little as she picked up the receiver.

"Yes?"

Expect Canadeo to Get Hardest Test

King Pin of State Wel-ters Draws Negro Boxer Tonight

SHOW IN WINDUP

Six Other Bouts on Legion's Monthly Amateur Program

THE CARD

Savior Canadeo, Green Bay, versus Anthony Jones, Springfield, Ill., five rounds at 147 pounds.

Frank Guenther, LaCrosse, versus Frank McBride, Chicago, five rounds at 156 pounds.

Clarence Vetsch, LaCrosse, versus George Jawvyl, Chicago, three rounds at 135 pounds.

Donnie Loonsfoot, Green Bay, versus Vito Rizzo, Chicago, three rounds at 126 pounds.

Al McPherson, Neopit, versus Eddie Troxel, Oshkosh, three rounds at 147 pounds.

Gus Steffen, Rhineland, versus Bob Moses, LaCrosse, three rounds at 195 pounds.

Chuck Gerlach, Menasha, versus Smookey Van Bostel, Little Chute, three rounds at 175 pounds.

THE possibility that Savior Can-adeo, St. Norbert and Green Bay boxer, will meet his match in Anthony Jones, Springfield, Ill., is expected to draw a big crowd of valley amateur boxing fans to Armory G tonight for Oney Johnston post's monthly show. The card will start at 8:30 and will have seven bouts, two windups.

Canadeo, the king pin among welters in this section for years and years, has been matched with Jones for the express purpose of making the St. Norbert collocation put out.
His opponent has had over 100 bouts and is a central Illinois golden gloves champion.

The other windup will show
Frank Guenther, LaCrosse, against Frank McBride, Chicago. The latter replaces George Marino, Chicago, who suffered a gash over the eye in a recent bout, and is unable to appear. The boys will come in at 155 pounds.

Jabber Young's Team
Jones and McBride are members of a Chicago team being brought to Appleton by Jabber Young—or Jung when he lived in Menasha and boxed in these parts. Jabber now is a Chicago gym instructor and handler of boxers and annually has brought teams here.

One of Jabber's heavyweights will show in the fifth bout of the evening, the last of the supporting shows. He is George Jawvyl and will clash with Clarence Vetsch, La-Crosse. Vetsch appeared here several months ago and won. His opponent is a veteran.

Donnie Loonsfoot, hard-hitting Green Bay boxer, draws the other Chicago fighter, Vito Rizzo. Loonsfoot has more or less success in this section for several years and is a hard hitter.

The third go of the evening will be a return engagement between Al McPherson, Neopit Indian boxer, and Eddie Troxel, Oshkosh. Mc-Pherson beat Troxel here a couple months ago because Al was much too fast. Troxel, a veteran, wants to even matters. He feels that a week in the national guard camp at Sparta before the fight handicapped his training and made him easy for Mc-Pherson.

In the second bout, Gus Steffen, Rhineland, will clash with Bob Moses, LaCrosse. They are heavyweights.

The curtain will rise on Chuck Gerlach, Appleton and Menasha, batting Smookey Van Bostel, Little Chute. They are light heavyweights and both hit hard. Van Bostel has been showing regularly while Gerlach will be making his first appearance in several months.

Kimberly A. A. to Play Four Games Within Week

KIMBERLY—The A. A. cagers, leaders in the Wisconsin Michigan league, will play four games in less than a week.
This evening they go to Hilbert to battle Mike Vollmer's five in a return game. Sunday afternoon they play at Ironwood, Mich., and Sunday evening at Rhineland in league competition.

The next showing at home will be Tuesday evening at the clubhouse
when they meet the Fountain City Marvells. Rollie Winters and Cliff Burton of Appleton play on the Marvel squad.

The Marvel lineup includes some of the greatest stars in the state and county during the past few years. It presents the tallest average lineup in the pro game and features an airtight defense, plus a great exhibition of sharp shooting and ball handling. The Marvels have lost only one game to date and have averaged better than a point a minute.

Their lineup includes Bill
"Stretch" Potter, center, who is 6 feet, 8 inches tall and has a college and professional record behind him.
Three times he was on all-state prep teams and has been named to many all-star professional selections. It is almost impossible to guard him for he weighs 209 pounds.

Rollie Winter started at the University of Idaho where he was named to the Pacific coast all star team.
He set a school record of 29 points in a single game. Winter is a native of Appleton, where he was three times all-conference in prep days at Appleton high. He plays guard, is 6 feet, 3 inches and weighs 190 pounds.

Suede Johnson hails from Miami University where he was a generation. He is a giant forward, standing 6 feet, 5 inches, weighs 210 pounds and leads the scoring for the team. Johnson is one of the greatest rebound men in the game.

Cliff Burton is another Appleton player who is making a great name for himself as a pro cager. He hails from Lawrence college where he won all-state and all-midwestern honors. He stands 6 feet, 3 inches and weighs 195 pounds. Burton is rated as one of the best cagers ever to come out of Lawrence.

Bronko Malesevich is a former star athlete of the University of Wisconsin where he was more famous for his exploits as a grid star.
However, he is a great cager in his own right, is very fast and shifty and is possessor of a crack shooting eye. He is a bout 6 foot in height and weighs 200 pounds. He played pro football with the Chicago Bears.

Carl Guell hails from the Oshkosh State Teachers college where he was a star before his withdrawal from school. He is a big boy, standing 6 feet, 2 inches and weighs 190 pounds. He plays guard.

Art "King" Arthur comes direct from high school circles where he was a sensation in basketball and football. He is 6 feet, 2 inches tall and weighs 180 pounds.

Placed on Block

Bank Reported Seeking Approval of Court for Sale of Club

Chicago—(U)—The Tribune said today the First National Bank of Chicago, executor of the estate of C. L.
Comiskey, will ask court approval of a proposal to sell the Chicago White Sox baseball club.

Comiskey, who died July 18, 1939, named the bank as trustee of his estate, left in trust for Mrs. Comiskey and their three children.

According to the Tribune, a petition to the Tribune, a peti-

The court will be asked to order sale of the stock in one block. Of the 7,500 shares of stock, Harry Grabner, club secretary, owns 50 and the estate the balance.

Thomas J. Sheehan, attorney for Mrs. Comiskey, said the proposed sale would be contested.

"We are prepared to fight this move to the utmost," he said. "The Comiskey family wants to retain possession of the White Sox."

The club has been in the Comiskey family since the formation of the American league. It was purchased by Charles A. Comiskey.
"The old Roman," and he operated it until his death in 1931 when his son, J. Louis, took it over.

Under the terms of J. Louis Com-iskey's will, the bank was directed to operate the club until his son, Charles Comiskey II, reached 21. provided the stock had not been sold during the interval. The son now is 13. His sisters are Dorothy, 22, and Gracie Lou, 18.

Comiskey expressed a desire in his will that the club remain in the family but gave the trustee power to sell if such action were deemed "prudent and desirable."

Little Chute Six Is Defeated by DePere

Little Chute—The Aces hockey team lost a 2 to 1 decision to De Pere in a Valley Hockey league game played here last night. The periods were shortened due to the bitter cold.

The visitors show a classy squad with a lot of fight which made the contest a battle royal with Referee, George Vander Loop busy dishing out penalties for fisticuffs.

The locals scored in the first period with Carl Evers slipping the puck past the goalie. The visitors scored twice in the second period.

The locals meet Menasha here Sunday and play Appleton here next Wednesday under lights.

the game was a family reunion for two of the contestants, Boyce Kertet, and Rollie Bendel, Clintonville forward, being cousins.

It also marked the second time this season that one of the opponents has played baseball with the Clintonville FWD Truckers. Matt
Wagner, who performed with the Trucks the early part of the season and then with Green Bay, was a member of the invaders.

The Auctioneers opened the first period with a barrage of baskets and held a 10 to 3 lead at the end of the quarter. The second stanza saw the Clintonville squad dump 13 markers while Bonduel picked up 8.

In the third quarter, the Auc-tioneers rung up 8 points and held the losers to 4. Bonduel held fast in the last period and added 7 points while Clintonville went scoreless.

Sid Felts, Clint center, again took high scoring honors for the evening with seven buckets for 14 points.
John Monty, Auctioneer forward, followed with 6 points on three field goals. For Bonduel, Chubby

FRIDAY'S GAME
Neenah at Menasha.
Clintonville at Kaukauna.
Shawano at West DePere.

KAUKAUNA—After taking things easy the first part of the week, due to the grind of successive games last Friday and Saturday, intensive scrimmages are on the slate today and tomorrow as high school cagers prepare for Clintonville here Friday. A victory is necessary to retain a chance to overtake the leading Neenah five.

With half of the schedule played out the Kaws are three games behind.

Thoughts probably will be more on the Neenah game here a week from Friday than on trimming the Truckers. Coach Krumm used 9 men, the largest number who saw service in any game, in beating Clintonville on its home floor, 37 to 23, and all subs are expected to get into Friday's game.

The two weekend losses give the team a record of five wins and six losses this year. The defeats are a more than Krumm's teams suffered in the last four years, but only one game, a 30 to 14 loss to St. Mary's of Menasha, could not easily have gone the other way.

Krumm will start Bloch and Bisely at forward, Alger at center and Giordana and Swedberg at guard. Substitutes to play are Bill Tessin, Willis Ranquette and Ken Busse, forwards, and W. Van Dyke and E. Stanella, guards.

CLINTS VS. KAWS
Clintonville—The Clintonville High school basketball squad takes to the road Friday evening and travels to Kaukauna for a Northeastern Wisconsin conference game.
The Clints have completed half of their league scheduled and have lost to every conference opponent.
Kaukauna has managed to sneak out a .500 rating losing three and winning three.

Last week Clintonville lost two league encounters, Tuesday at West
De Pere, 25 to 17, and at home
Friday night, 39 to 19 to Neenah.
Kaukauna, playing a game on Friday night and then Saturday, lost their first encounter to New London 34 to 31 and then to Shawano, 35 to 18.

Kaukauna holds a 37 to 23 victory over Clintonville in a game played on the Clints' floor. The Clints held a 1-point lead at the end of the first quarter. The second stanza was the ruination and with Junior Swedberg and Bill Alger tossing them in from all angles for the Kaws, the Clints had no chance to catch up. The last half was played on fairly even terms with Kaukauna increasing its lead by five points.

SHAWANO AT W. DEPERE Shawano—On the upgrade again after a win over Kaukauna, the Shawano Indians will open the second round of play in the Western division of the Northeastern Wisconsin conference Friday night with a trip to West De Pere.

To date the Indians have played each of their six conference opponents, losing as visitors to Neenah and Menasha.

With Vernie Rosenow, veteran senior guard, still out of action with a broken bone in his wrist, Coach Cliff Dilt's starting lineup is a matter of conjecture. Jack Anderson, who kept pace with the high-scoring Billy Reed against Kaukauna last weekend, is sure to be in there, and Rosenow's guard assignment will probably again go to Rog Cantwell, who played consistent ball. With this trio, big Milton Nehls is the best bet at center, with Bill Dicke or Jim Anderson at the other forward with Jack Anderson.

Todd made a personal visit to the tract bounced back without an autograph. Others still unsigned include Hank Leiber, Dizzy Dean, Augie

The Cubs also announced that pitchers Clare Bertram and Julian Tubb, previously sent to Tulsa, would accompany the squad on the training trip to Catalina Island.
The decision was in accordance with an order by K. M. Landis, commis-

APPLING PICKS YANKS
Miami, Fla.—(U)—Luke Appling, Chicago White Sox shortstop, does not consider the American league top heavy, although the Yankees,
"have a little over the other clubs."

"A lot of folks think we ought to walk all over the St. Louis Browns every time we play 'em," he declared. "As a matter of fact, we had a hard time with the Browns last season, even though we finished fourth and they wound up in the cellar."

"It's somewhat the same with the Yankees. They have to work hard to beat the other teams—there's no team in the league that's a pushover. The Yankees are just consistently a little bit better."

Appling, who is getting in some good before spring training, added
"most people forget that the Yankees have a log-jam defense."

"They get good pitching and good fielding and so they hold back the other team's attack."

The shortstop said the Sox had a lot of confidence in Manager Jimmy Dykes.

"He knows how to handle men.
Lacking the power of some other teams, we have to fight for every run. And Dykes has us hustling for

knocking in 146 runs.

Burke, Joliet, Ill., southpaw pitcher with the Washington Senators for nine years, applies to be an umpire in the American league.
"I'll make it within two years,"
Burke said today.

Burke, whose chief claim to fame was a no-hit, no-run game pitched against the Boston Red Sox in 1931, will enter the umpires' school sponsored by Emmett "Red" Ormsby and William MacGowan, American league arbiters, opening in Jackson, Miss., Feb. 14.

Burke is 33 years old.

It's Cold Without, Lads, So Gather Round the Hot Stove for Baseball Dope

MEMPHIS, TENN.—(U)—Managers of three National league clubs—two of them pre-season pennant contenders—reluctantly forecast today clear weather ahead for the 1940 edition of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I was hoping somebody would trade 'em out of some of their players," sighed William (Memphis) Bill Terry, field boss of the New York Giants. "They look too tough right now."

"The Cardinals," avowed Terry's fellow Memphisian, Manager James
(Doc) Prothro of the Philadelphia Phillies, "should win by 10 games.
They've got a ball club that will give the Yankees all they want."

The St. Louis bandwagon picked up a burst of speed yesterday when Gabby Hartnett, Chicago Cub pilot, named the Cards as his choice for the National league flag.

"But," Gabby warned, "we're going to be up there, too." The veteran catcher-manager is in Hot Springs, Ark., working off surplus poundage.

Little Chute—St. Peter High school cagers of Oshkosh will invade the local gym Friday evening to battle St. John high in a Catholic conference game. Oshkosh has won two games and lost three so far while St. John scored four wins and dropped one game.

Friday's contest will be the initial meeting of the two schools this season. The Keymen were defeated by St. Mary of Menasha last Friday evening by a 29 to 15 score.
St. Peter defeated St. Mary's of Oshkosh so a good game is expected here.

Jimmy Koehn has rejoined the squad after a few weeks out with tonsillitis and this will help the locals greatly. Koehn is the sparkplug of the Dutchmen's offense. He scored six field goals last Wednesday at Lourdes for half of his team's points.

The preliminary will start at 8

Grinnell and Ripon still hold to their lead in the Midwest conference basketball race as the teams swing into the last week prior to the lay-off for semester examinations.

An end to this dual leadership will come on Monday evening when the Redmen and Pioneers have it out on the Grinnell floor in the first athletic contest between the two colleges. For Ripon, it will be the first step in the hardest 2-game trip on this year's conference schedule. Coach Lanphear and his men must face the tough Carleton team at Northfield, Minn., the night after the fight for the lead at Grinnell. A stop for a non-conference game at St. Norbert will complete a thousand mile triangle which will make or slow up the Redmen.

Other league games will find Knox at Carleton on Friday and Monmouth at Cornell on Saturday. Friday night also will see Beloit at Lake Forest and Grinnell at Drake in non-conference affairs.

Coe, the surprise team of the year, took two wins during a week of high scoring games, to keep a firm hold on third place. Beloit beat a state rival, Lawrence, to attain a .500 rating and tie Carleton for fourth. The latter was jumped on by Cornell and Monmouth on a disastrous road trip.

Oshkosh Lead Fades; Kautskys Win, 44-40

Indianapolis—(U)—The Indianapolis Kautskys came from behind to score a 44 to 40 victory over the Oshkosh All-Stars in a National Professional Basketball league game here last night.

Early in the game the Wisconsin cagers held a 10-point lead, but superior marksmanship at the free throw line aided the Kautskys to a winning margin. The Kautskys made 10 of 11 attempts while Oshkosh scored only eight of 14.

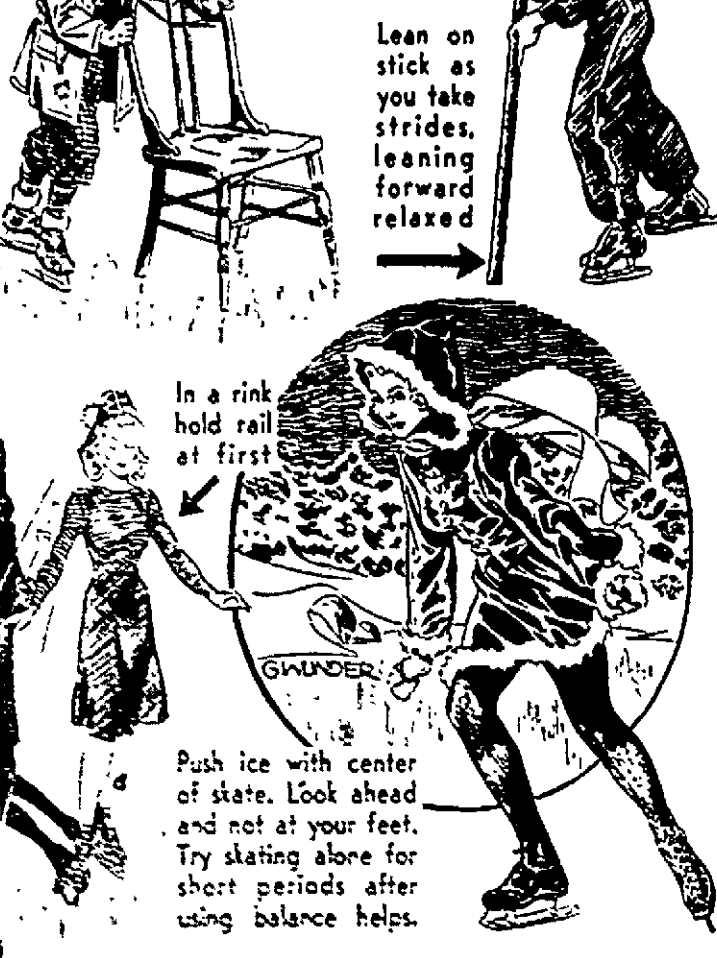

Andres, Kautsky guard, was high scorer with 15 points, while Shippe, also a guard, paced Oshkosh with 12.

MR. GARY COOPER, Esq., wood, California, broke 77 straight ski targets recently to set the new long run ski record for women. Mrs. Cooper, who has broken 99's, 88's and several 77's at ski last year, is the California women's ski champion. The former long run record was held by Mrs. LaDele Murphree of San Antonio, Texas, who had scored 186 straight.

Robert Stack, Los Angeles, California, who won the world's 29 gauge championship at St. Louis in 1936 and who we picked on our 1936 All-America ski team, is now playing the leading part with Deanna Durbin in "My First Love." Bobby is one of the world's greatest ski shoters, having won many championships in the past five years.

Ski gunners shaded trapshooters in 1939, as far as state championships were concerned. Five '39 state ski champions, Henry Joy, Michigan; Dick Shagnessy, Massachusetts; S. L. Huesman, New York; Graydon Hubbard, Indiana; and Walt Dinger, Oklahoma, turned in perfect scores to win their state ski titles. There were 42 state ski titles held last year. The trapshooters held 51 state and provincial titles in '39 and just four gunners, Joe Hiestand in Ohio, Harry Hausman in Texas, Bruce Sloan in Kentucky and Fred Mench in Minnesota chalked up 200 titles to top their state shotgun titles.

Walt Dinger, Tulsa, Oklahoma, was the outstanding ski shot of the 1939 season. He won the Oklahoma State Ski Championship with 150 straight hits and the National Championship at San Francisco with 247 out of 250 in the regular event and 50 straight in the shoot-off. Dinger's shooting partner, little 15-year-old Bobby Parker of Tulsa, was the outstanding Junior ski shot of the year. Bobby won the National Junior Championship at San Francisco with 100 straight; broke 247 out of 250 in the championship race to win the Two-Man race with Dinger and topped the National All-Around Crown with 534 out of 550 targets.

Pat Laursen, Akron, Ohio, again topped the women ski gunners of the nation. This 16-year-old Diana of the traps won the Women's National Clay Target title at San Francisco in August and the Women's Mid-West Championship at Akron, Ohio, with 99 out of 100.

3 Good Lines And A 'System' Win For Rangers

NEW YORK—(U)—Ice hockey has produced the first "wonder team" of this brand-new decade. It's the New York Rangers of the National Hockey league, a fast skating, accurate shooting crew that boasts a stingy defense.

The Rangers went 17 games straight before they succumbed to the Chicago Blackhawks, Jan. 11, and thereby failed by a single game to tie the league record of 18 straight wins set by the Montreal Canadiens.

What makes the Rangers go? Why are they hailed as perhaps hockey's best team in a decade or more?

The answer is that the Rangers have this combination: fine balance, three good scoring lines, speed, a great goalie and perhaps the best "system."

They play a streamlined style of hockey that brings a wider open game. They depend more on perfectly timed team play than on power blasting and they probably use more plays than any other club.

Young Outfit

Manager Les Patrick's club is one of the youngest in the league, perhaps the fastest and its players are among the best as skaters. It is not a crew of bruisers. The Rangers rely more on speed and passing finesse.

Other teams have a good first line but none has three lines as dangerous as those of the Rangers. Patrick can toss in one line that has the brothers Neil and Mack Colville at center and right wing and Alex Shibicky at left wing. Another has Phil Watson at center with Bryan

FRIDAY'S GAMES
Western Division
Shiocton at Bear Creek.
Wrightstown at Hortonville.
Winneconne at Freedom.

Eastern Division
Seymour at Brillion.
Reedsville at Denmark.
Hilbert at Kimberly.

KIMBERLY—With five teams tied for first place in the Eastern division in the Little Nine, anything can happen Friday evening as the squads start their second round of play. Indications are that after this week's contests, three teams still will be tied for top honors. Reedsville, Kimberly, Brillion, Denmark and Seymour now are the leaders.

Hilbert comes to Kimberly and it looks like a win for the Papermakers. Hilbert has only one win in five starts. Last week it was defeated by Seymour as the Indians set a scoring record, 62 to 28. Should Kimberly come through with a win and Seymour defeat Brillion, the important game of the season for the Papermakers will take place at Seymour next week.

The Papermakers came out of a slump last week after dropping a couple of contests and defeated Reedsville, 22 to 21. E. Vander Velden was high scorer with nine points. In the preliminary, fans will get a real treat when Father Hietspas' Holy Name midgets clash with Hilbert grade school squad.

Denmark defeated Brillion last week which put the Danes and Brillion in the 5-way tie. The Seymour-Brillion contest should be a battle as the teams are evenly matched.

Reedsville, which led the loop alone before the Kimberly defeat, goes to Denmark. Denmark defeated Brillion last week, 26 to 15. Cizek of the Danes dropped five buckets for ten points.

In the western division, Shiocton goes to Bear Creek and it looks like the Bears can upset any team. Last week they defeated the third place Hortonville squad, 23 to 18. The winners led at the half, 13 to 3.

Wrightstown plays Hortonville at Hortonville. In last week's contest, Wrightstown lost to Freedom, 39 to 29. The score was no indication of the battle the losers put up. Bubolz of the Wrightstown connected for seven buckets and a free throw for fifteen points. In the other game, Freedom will be host to Winneconne.

Waupaca, Marion in Cage Game Tomorrow

Marion—The Pigeons will be host to Waupaca here Friday night, in what should prove an interesting game as far as Central Wisconsin conference standings are concerned. Although the Pigeons pushed aside their most serious threat when they defeated Weyauwega's quintet last Friday, the Waupaca team is not to be taken lightly. It is right up in the conference and also a team that works hard for a victory.

According to the law of averages, since Weyauwega beat Waupaca and Marion beat Weyauwega, Marion should beat Waupaca. But casting aside all laws of averages it will be a real battle and one that fans should like. Like Weyauwega, Waupaca has a chance to upset the Pigeons.

P.G.A. President Takes Average Golfer for "Ride"

BY TOM WALSH
President, Professional Golfers' Association of America
CHICAGO—(U)—Golf, which enjoyed a great year in 1939, is the great game that it is because it cannot be mastered in 24 hours—a fact which Mr. Average Golfer, whose average score is 108 for 18 holes, sometimes does not realize.

Here is the average golfer's idea of being a keen student of the game:

Phone the club for a lesson, rush out, grab a ham on rye, run to the lesson and spend almost a full hour, learn three-quarters of the Vardon grip, race to the first tee and double the bet with the other three members of the wrecking crew, toss his handkerchief into the air to test the wind, yell a question to his caddy about his eye-sight, and then grab his driver with just one thought in mind: "How far can I sock this thing?"

Of course, if he fails to sock it with the degree of perfection he thinks he deserves, the professional is a poor teacher.

If Mr. Golfer would approach the game in the way wren players approach it, the average score probably would drop. Mrs. Golfer does not have the idea she can learn a difficult subject in 30 minutes flat. Teaching golf is a tough job, yet when a professional does succeed in helping the struggling player get more fun from the game, the pro is rewarded with real satisfaction.

$124,000 in Prizes
During the past year, 39 tournaments were conducted under the guidance of the P.G.A. The purses totaled $124,000.

The P.G.A. has one-in-one club, organized by past president George R. Jacobus, proved very popular, with 2,245 hole-in-one emblems being presented golfers by the association.

The third annual P.G.A. seniors' championship, completed yesterday at Sarasota, Fla., when Otto Hackbarth defeated Jack Hutchison in the second playoff round, proved an especially interesting event.

The P.G.A. now is making plans to celebrate its silver anniversary in 1941—an anniversary which will pay tribute to scores of professionals who contributed much time and effort toward the steady advancement and growth of the P.G.A. Among them are Charles Hall, George Jacobus, J. B. Mackie, Alex Pirie and J. Sargent, five past presidents who have been named to participate in the anniversary as a special honorary committee.

A SHORT HISTORY OF RUSSIA VIII--War Troubles Broke Czar's Hold on Russia

During the reign of Czar Nicholas II, Russia took several forward steps. A law was made to give people freedom of religion. Russians no longer were forced to belong to the Greek Christian, or Greek Catholic, faith. Thousands were allowed to attend Roman Catholic churches, and other thousands were given the right to be Mohammedans.

Crowd in front of Czar's winter palace when revolution broke in 1917. Another step was the building of a railroad from Moscow into Siberia, and then clear to the Pacific coast. With a length of more than 5,500 miles, this railway ranks as one of the great deeds of modern engineers. It was finished in 13 years, and the cost was above $200,000,000.

At the time of the Russo-Japanese war, a rebellion broke out in Russia. It was put down, but it led the czar to give the people a little power in running the country. Great numbers of workers and farmers were told they would have the right to vote to choose members of the Duma. The Duma was composed of men who had a certain amount of power to make laws.

In 1914 the World War broke out, and Russia entered it at the same time as Germany and France. Russian armies fought hard, but lost most of their battles against German troops.

Although the Russians were driven back more than they went forward, they were of help to their partners among the Allies. They kept millions of German soldiers busy on the eastern front.

Russia's armies were not well supplied with food and arms. The hardships grew terrible late in 1916. People at home, as well as the soldiers at the front, were ill housed, and ill fed.

Czar Nicholas was believed to be a man of weak will. His wife was known to have more to do with public affairs than her husband. Since she was German by birth, it was feared that she was trying secretly to help the enemy Germans.

There was talk about a man named Rasputin. He spent a great deal of his time in the royal palace, and was known to have power over both the czar and the carina. Many felt that his power was being used in a way bad for Russia. Just as 1916 drew to a close, Rasputin was murdered.

Early in 1917, riots took place in Russian cities. Strikes were called, and factories stopped running. The people were hungry, and were angry about the war lasting so long.

The rebellion grew and turned into a revolt. Soldiers were ordered to fire at the mobs but would not do so. In March the czar gave up his throne.

Freedom Depends On Belief, Pastor Tells Kiwanians

Faith in Ordered Universe Essential, Clergyman Says

Neenah—Unless there is a definite attitude toward freedom, it won't last even in the United States, the Rev. Gerald Churchill, Menasha, pastor of the Congregational church, declared in a talk at the noon meeting of the Kiwanis club Wednesday at the Valley Inn. He pointed out that freedom is intangible and not the first principle, so it is dependent upon our belief in an ordered universe.

The minister said, "Perhaps it can happen here," in speaking about loss of freedom in such countries as Germany, Russia and Italy, but he said that "We shouldn't get excited about it, such as over the Christian front and other organizations. We should become concerned, however, if there might be a condition in the minds of Americans to foster a growth of such an organization," he continued.

Given Little Thought

Freedom is so priceless that it is commonplace and people give little thought to it, according to the minister.

"We have inherited freedom and enjoyed it, and because we consider it a permanent thing, we don't bother about much more than to recall that we won it through a struggle and hardship. We can trace back the birth of a sense of freedom to the Renaissance, and it was this freedom that was championed by such men as John Locke, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Williams and the Pilgrims."

The Rev. Mr. Churchill drafted a background for his talk on "An Appreciation of Freedom" by reviewing a popular Broadway play, "The American Way."

Zephyrs to Oppose Squires Tonight

Teams Will Battle for First Place in Fox Valley Catholic League

Menasha—St. Mary's High school players will oppose the St. Norbert high school quintet tonight at St. Mary's gymnasium in a Fox Valley Catholic conference game. The winner of the game, which starts at 8 o'clock, will take undisputed possession of first place in conference standings.

Coach Robert Zuercher will stand pat on the lineup which has carried the Zephyrs to 10 straight victories this season. That quintet will include N. Griesbach and J. Schuller at forwards, Farnham Johnson at center, William Resch and Sylvester Burghardt at guards. Al Hayes will be the No. 1 guard replacement.

The Zephyrs include five Fox Valley Catholic contests in their record of victories. The St. Norbert team has won both of its league starts but failed to trounce St. Peter's of Oshkosh by as decisive a margin as the Zephyrs did. The game tonight will be the second in three nights for the Squires. Tuesday night they played Algoma.

The Squires have a veteran, big team that includes Collins, Joppe, Hartman, and Hafmeister. William Dowling, a graduate of St. Patrick's school of Menasha and a sophomore at the DePere school, is a member of the squad for the second year and has seen action in both conference games to date.

Scoring power in the Squire team is entirely confined to the front line as the guards failed to score in two conference games. The forwards made up for that though. Collins has counted 29 points in two games while Joppe tossed in 17. Hartman at center collected 20 points in one tilt and added two more baskets in the second for 24 points.

Church Congregation Will Convene Sunday

Menasha—Annual meeting of the congregation of Trinity Lutheran church will be held at 7:30 Sunday night at the school hall. Officers will be elected and the Rev. Paul G. Bergmann, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, will give his annual report. The meeting originally was scheduled for last Sunday night but was postponed because of the snowstorm.

Rows of white lace in minute ruffles accent this black crepe dinner gown worn by John Crawford. Interest centers in unusual neckline and skirt slit to the knee, with hem and slit border of lace.

Fidler

one word for such lack of judgment and that word is "stupidity."

The motion picture industry—producers and exhibitors alike—blindly overlooks its most important audience, the kids. True, they only go to the theater once a week now, and their half-fare admission fees count for little when the week's "take" is added up. But these kids of today are the adults of tomorrow. Drive them away from the theaters now and what will happen to Hollywood's lush profits ten years hence?

Hollywood is making no effort to sell kids the movie-going habit. With every library in the land filled to overflowing with grand children's stories, our major studios, in 1939, produced only two or three pictures aimed, primarily, at juvenile audiences. The fact that about a score of other films had kid appeal was entirely accidental.

With such bills as last Saturday's offering in our neighborhood house the rule rather than the exception, the movie czars can blame only themselves if, in 1950, their theaters stand empty, while the football stadium, the skating rink and radio reap a golden harvest.

Roosevelt-Created Agency Denied Funds

Washington—(AP)—A Roosevelt-created agency was denied funds yesterday when the house killed out of the $1,101,000,000 independent offices supply bill a $35,040 item for the council of personnel administration.

The council is composed of personnel directors of government agencies who meet to compare notes. The money is used chiefly to maintain a central office.

Representative Schafer (R-Wis.) was defeated on a voice vote in an attempt to strike from the measure authority for the export-import bank to use $125,000 of its profits for administrative expenses.

Schafer demanded the United States "stop playing Santa Claus to people of foreign lands."

Name Boy Member of Quadruplets; Gifts Proposals Pour in

Nasvee, Ala.—(AP)—Alabama's 4-day-old quadruplets all had names today, in addition to two guardians, an advisory committee and legal counsel.

The three girls were named Faith, Hope and Charity after the birth of the four infants Sunday to Mrs. Clyde Short, wife of a tenant farmer and coal miner.

Yesterday their brother was named Franklin after a maternal uncle.

Dr. H. J. Sankey, country physician who delivered the babies by the light of an oil lamp, said he and their father had been named joint legal guardians.

Mayor P. L. Dodd headed an advisory committee, named with the approval of Short after gifts and proposals began to pour in from all parts of the country.

Two Jasper, Ala., law firms volunteered legal services for the quadruplets.

Hospital attendants said the babies had lost about an ounce each in weight but were active and well.

When spare 68-year-old President Oscar de Fragosa Carmona, of Portugal, visited Cape Verde Islands and Mozambique last summer, it marked the first time a Portuguese executive had set foot in those territories.

That visit, necessitating a long and tiring trip for a man so old, has been marked by the issue of three stamps for the Cape Verde, off Africa's West Coast, and stamps of four values for Mozambique 297, 600 square miles of rich undeveloped territory in East Africa.

Special interest is attached to the issues because of the situation at the time Carmona made this trip, designed to strengthen unity among Portugal's vast but scattered territories.

Munich, signifying danger for small nations unable to defend themselves, had started Portugal thinking. The Spanish war, with its menace to land frontiers of continental Portugal, and tension in the Mediterranean added to the disturbing picture.

War did break out, even as Portugal feared, and while Carmonas was on his 14,000 mile jaunt. But the flare-up didn't come in the Mediterranean, as had been forecast by some observers last spring. And so the only hitch to the president's trip was the cancellation of a tentatively scheduled stop at the Madeira Islands on the return voyage.

The Cape Verde adhesives show a large map of Africa against a dark, solid background, with the president's route marked by dotted lines, running south from Portugal to Cape Verde and then around the southern tip of the continent to Mozambique.

Values and colors are: 1.75c blue on pale blue paper; 20c brown on buff paper and 80c purple on light violet paper.

Stamps issued for Mozambique are different only in that there are four values with the name Carmona instead of Cape Verde. Values and colors are: 7.75c, blue on plain blue paper; 3c, green on yellow-green paper; 20c, brown on buff paper, and 80c, purple on violet paper.

Says Elder Reds Encouraged Loose Morals Among Younger

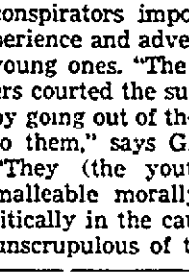

BY WESTBROOK FEGLER

New York—I want to emphasize a point in the case of those monstrous Russians and foreignized Americans who deliberately debauched American girls and boys in the furtherance of the Muscovite conspiracy against the United States and assigned the morally infected victims of their vicious example to the task of contaminating others by mingling with them in the American Student's Union and the American Youth Congress.

The point is that these older Communists took the initiative. The young people did not seek them out. On the contrary, the elders cultivate relations with susceptible girls and boys, the majority of them between 16 and 20 years, and this work of corruption was an activity of the Russian government directed from Moscow.

Benjamin Gitlow, the former general secretary of the party in the United States, writes in his book, I confess, that the adult party leaders set the young Communists an example of loose morals and that the orgies and debaucheries of the young ones were never seriously discussed or considered. As long as they could be used in the service of the conspiracy to bring about a revolution among them could be ignored. And even now that he has blacklisted Gitlow asks us to believe that he regrets that state of affairs as much for its reflection on the communist movement as for its consequences to the victims. Possibly, if it had not tended to discredit the movement in the eyes of the American people, he would have deplored it less.

He leaves no doubt that the adult conspirators imposed on the inexperienced and adventurousness of the young ones. "The older party leaders courted the support of the youth by going out of their way to play up to them," says Gitlow. And, again, "They (the youth) became most malleable morally as well as politically in the caucuses of the most unscrupulous of the party leaders."

Sportsmen Form Group to Improve Lake Poygan Feed

Officers, Directors Will Be Named at Meeting Jan. 24

Neenah—Officers and six directors for the proposed Poygan Restoration association will be named at a public meeting Wednesday evening, Jan. 24, it was voted at the second gathering of Winnebago county sportsmen in Draheim's sports shop Wednesday evening interested in promoting better feeding grounds in the Poygan waters.

Neenah's postmaster, Clarence Schultz, temporary chairman of the group, presided. Funds in the form of donations will be solicited and all donors will become members of the association. Membership cards will be distributed at the next meeting.

The purpose of the association will be to replant wild rice on a large scale as it is believed that if natural feeding facilities can be restored to the Poygan waters, the Fox river valley region will have better hunting.

Blames Black Birds

Angus Clark who has a farm on Lake Poygan pointed out that much of the wild rice had disappeared in this region because black birds fed on seed before it ripened. Mr. Clark stated that literally millions of black birds may be seen eating the unripened seed about 30 days previous to opening season for duck. He suggested destruction of nests and eggs of the blackbirds in early spring. There is little danger of exterminating the blackbird by this method, it was claimed.

Frank Niemuth, another resident on Lake Poygan, discussed dredging to halt washing away of banks as high and low water destroys roots of rice.

Some members were interested in obtaining permission from the state conservation commission to harvest the wild rice for replanting purposes. Such action is illegal under present laws.

It was pointed out that the prime purpose of the club will be to plant wild rice and other food for ducks.

Waupaca Council Again Delays Vote On 2 Ordinances

Extends Deadline for Payment of Taxes Until March 1

Waupaca — The ordinance providing for a change in the number of members of the board of education, as well as in the manner of their selection, which has been before the city council at two of its meetings, was again laid over when the aldermen met Tuesday night. This provides for an appropriation of $1,200 from the city for ten concerts to start the second or third Thursday in June. Each concert is to last from 8 o'clock to 9:30, to have not less than twenty musicians, including the director, and to include all local men possible. As fast as students in the school band qualify, the contract stipulates, they must be given a place in the city band. For the additional money necessary to promote the program, the officers of the band must solicit advertising. The officers of the band are Prof. Ernest Weber, manager and director; Irvin R. Ferguson, secretary, and Leo E. Kostuck, treasurer.

Salaries of city officials will be discussed at the next regular council meeting at which time the finance committee will have their recommendations to submit.

Diplomacy Plays Biggest Part in European Strife

Foreign Affairs Expert Says Peace in 1940 but 10 to 1 Chance

Kaukauna—Analysis of the European war as one in which the fighting is now primarily diplomatic was made yesterday noon before the Rotarians by Grant C. Haas, Madison current events commentator and foreign affairs expert. Haas concluded from the war objectives set forth by the powers engaged, that peace in 1940 was but a 10 to 1 chance.

"Fear of revolution at home, in the wake of huge losses which of necessity fall on an attacking force, has created the stalemate on the land front," he said. In the air and on the sea there is some activity, but most of all on the diplomatic front.

"Hitler is trying to persuade Stalin to abandon the Finnish war, for if Russia moves on across northern Finland to Norway she will obtain bases on the Atlantic, which England never will permit, the latter country then coming to Norway's aid, and obtaining south Norse bases for easy aerial and naval attacks on Germany," he stated.

Divert Russia
The German feuerher wishes to divert Russia's energies to the near East, where in Iraq and Persia is located the chief oil supply of the allies. Russia draws her oil from the Caucasus, not far from the allied sources, and either side which could cut the other's supply of the war's most vital need would strike a staggering blow, Haas explained. Military activity may come about in this section in 1940, Haas predicted.

England is interested in keeping the Finnish war moving because of its "nuisance value," the speaker brought out. Haas said in his opinion the neutrality of Holland and Belgium would not be violated by either side, except as a last resort. If Hitler invaded these countries enemy air fleets would have a much shorter course to the Ruhr district, Germany's industrial stronghold, and if the allies took over the German planes would be much closer to London and the channel naval bases, as flying over the neutral lands now is barred.

"Far apart war aims and absence of losses to stir up public opinion make it 10 to 1 against peace this year," Haas forecast. Continued inactivity on the central front, with attention directed to the Scandinavian and near East "flanks" is marked for this year, he said.

Five More Forums

With Grant Haas to Be Held at School

Kaukauna—With a large group attending the first lecture Tuesday evening by Grant C. Haas, Madison news commentator, five more world problem forums will be held at Park school. William T. Sullivan, vocational school director, announced this morning. It was voted Tuesday to hold the lectures at Park school in place of the originally scheduled library clubrooms.

Haas spoke Tuesday on "The Causes of Europe's Present Wars," spent half an hour beforehand analyzing the news of the week, and half an hour afterwards answering questions. The same program will be followed at future lectures, Sullivan said.

The group voted on lecture subjects for future meetings, selecting five. Those receiving the most votes were "Democracy—What It Is and What It Is Not;" "The United States in World Affairs;" "A Future American Foreign Policy;" "Can There Be a World Peace?" "Neutrality and the Avoidance of War." The first topic will be discussed at the Jan. 23 session.

One Is Beloved

BY LOUISE PLATT HAUCK

Must I reconnoiter before I come into my own home, ask for the guest list before I accept an invitation to a party? If I can't feel safe from you, Bob—

"With me; not from me," he corrected. "Oh, my little love, can't you see, can't you understand that I love you, want you, must have you?"

"I understand that you're a very self-willed and badly spoiled person." Her voice shook a bit on the words but she faced him proudly. "I have no doubt that heretofore you have had only to say 'must' and what you've wanted has dropped into your lap. But there's no 'must' about this, I assure you! I don't love you, I won't marry you. I wish you'd go away and let me alone." Her own ear caught the childish note in the last words, and she flushed again, hating him anew at this fresh evidence of her unsophistication. She flung herself across the room and fairly ran into her bedroom, slamming the door behind her.

"If he has the slightest decency he'll scribble a note to Allen, and leave at once," she thought, her hands against her hot cheeks. "If he stays, I'll make some excuse; say I have a headache. No, I won't! That's as good as admitting that he has upset me."

She got out of her day things as swiftly as possible; bundled her curls into a rubber cap and had a shower; dressed frantically, trying to listen for sounds from the living room. She was settling her favorite velvet frock about her slim hips when she heard her brother's voice, heard the two men laughing quietly at something Allen had said. Hateful, hateful situation! How could she open her door and walk out there, meet Bob's amused eyes searching her face?

It had to be done, however, unless she wanted Allen to come in search of her. She summoned all her pride and made a dignified entrance, tiptoeing up to kiss her brother with more than her usual warmth.

RIDING HIGHWAYMAN

Buenos Aires —(AP)— From far-off, tropical and under-populated Chaco territory, reports percolating through say, "Mate Cocido" (Stewed Tea) is on the loose again at the head of his horseback gang of highwaymen, kidnapping teen-age girls, robbing from horse-drawn carts on the roads and taking banks and stores by storm. National forces are riding hard to catch him.

Ohio Democrats Want Roosevelt Candidacy

Columbus, Ohio — (AP)— Third term backing for President Roosevelt came Wednesday from political-pivotal Ohio's Democrats — the first state organization to make such a move.

Delegates being lined up for the Democratic presidential convention will be required to support Mr. Roosevelt for renomination and be "in accord" with the New Deal, State Chairman Arthur L. Limbach announced.

While pro-New Deal state organization leaders previously expressed hope the president would seek another term, there had been no indication the delegation would be instructed specifically how to cast Ohio's 52 important votes.

Stop for Arteries

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
